EXPECT STORM WILL BREAK OUT WITHIN SENATE

See Trouble Ahead Over the Columbian Treaty.

MESSAGE IS SENT

Situation Hinges On Word From President Harding.

Washington, March 9.—President Harding will send a message to the senate today on the Columbian treaty. The communication probably will be short and is expected to urge the immediate ratification of the treaty by the senate.

Storm warnings were visible in the senate over the disputed Columbian treaty. Opposition to its ratification by Senators Borah of Idaho, Kellogg of Minnesota and other Republicans was developing rapidly.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts Republican leader and chairman of the foreign relations committee indicated the situation hinged upon the special message regarding the treaty President Harding is sending to the senate.

Lodge would not discuss the situation except to state clearly he expected the treaty to be ratified at the present special session of the senate if the president so desired.

It is the purpose of Borah and its other opponents to insist that the treaty be considered and debated in open executive session, so that all that is said and done respecting it may be given the fullest publicity.

The treaty's opponents are also prepared, they say, to call attention to the fact that Lodge originally opposed the payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia for territory now a part of the Panama Canal zone as provided by the treaty and was a signer of a senate report in which the demand of Colombia for such payment was emphasized as "black-mail."

COLUMBUS MERCHANT HELD ON CHARGE OF UNLAWFUL KILLING

Arrest Follows Autopsy Performed On Body Of Girl.

Newark, O., March 9.—Ray Foster, aged about 30 years, a merchant in Mount Vernon Avenue, Columbus was arrested by the marshal in Hebron 9 miles west of here late yesterday afternoon charged in an affidavit with the unlawful killing of Opal Sonard, the 16 year old daughter of Mrs. E. Lind, residing at 938 1/2 Mount Vernon Avenue, Columbus, O. on Monday morning, March 7.

The making out of the affidavit by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Norpell, and the signing and swearing to the document by Coroner S. S. Richards, of this county, followed an autopsy performed upon the body of the girl at the undertaking rooms in Hebron yesterday afternoon. The surgical examination disclosed to Prosecutor Norpell and Coroner Richards that the girl was rapidly approaching motherhood. The prosecutor, when he witnessed this conclusive evidence hurried to the office of Mayor White and made out affidavit, in time to catch Foster en route from Buckeye Lake to Columbus and intercepted him at the Hebron station.

ESCAPED PRISONERS ARE RE-CAPTURED

GET-AWAY EFFECTED DURING HEAVY RAINSTORM TUESDAY NIGHT

Covington, Ky., March 9.—Three of the nine prisoners who escaped from city jail at 8:30 last night during a heavy rain storm have been recaptured. The prisoners escaped by sawing the bars of their cells on the second floor and after entering a corridor sawed bars from a window and dropped to the ground. One of the escaped men, the police say, was Michael Ward, 35, convicted recently of the murder of Thomas Mahoney, 65, in a saloon in Ironton, O.

Hacksaws, saws made of case knives and twisted iron bars littered the floor of the cell room giving the appearance of a hastily abandoned machine shop.

Authorities are convinced the prisoners had outside help. This is the second jail delivery in two months.

THINK MURDERERS OF PREMIER ARE ALL COMMUNISTS

Police Fail To Find Trace Of Spaniard's Assassins.

Madrid, March 9.—The three assassins who killed Premier Eduardo Dato of Spain as he was on his way home from the chamber of deputies last night, were said by the police today to be communists.

Medical examination of the body showed that the cartridges used by the assassins had been nicked on the end with a knife so that they would expand and make death certain. The assassins had been waiting for Senator Dato. When he entered his motor car they followed on bicycles. Suddenly the three men drove up close and began firing from pistols. Twenty seven shots were fired and the premier received three wounds, any of which would have been fatal.

The chauffeur who was badly wounded during the fusillade drove the car to a hospital but M. Dato was dead upon arrival there.

The police were unable to get any definite trace of the three men who escaped upon their bicycles.

PETROGRAD QUIET DECLARES REPORT FROM CITY OF RIGA

No Disturbances at Moscow Is Word From Russia.

Riga, March 9.—Petrograd is absolutely quiet and there are no disturbances at Moscow, said a message from George Tchitcherin, people's commissar for foreign affairs in the Moscow government to Stanislaus Ganetsky, chief of the Latvian soviet mission. This message was received Tuesday and made public today. It said further:

"There has been no mobilization at Petrograd, nor have there been any trenches dug. Crowds were not disturbed. The army was maintaining order; not communists, but regulars. There are no disturbances at Moscow."

On the other hand Riga newspapers declare the situation at Moscow is unsettled and that strikes are increasing. The soviet has prohibited all food speculation and special rations have been discontinued. Only tobacco and apples are being sold, it was said. According to the Riga press the fuel and transportation crisis continues unabated.

HARDING TO NAME BRITISH AMBASSADOR

INDICATIONS POINT TO SELECTION OF GEORGE HARVEY.

Washington, March 9.—President Harding probably will name an ambassador to Great Britain within a few days, it was learned here today.

No word has come from the White House as to the president's choice but indications point to the selection of George Harvey, editor and publisher of New York. It is reported that Harvey has been offered the post and has agreed to accept it.

President Harding is anxious to fill the post as quickly as possible, in view of the departure from England this week of Ambassador John W. Davis, whose resignation already has been received.

ALLIES ADVANCE WITHIN FIVE MILES OF ESSEN

Artillery In Easy Range of Gigantic Krupp Works—Patrols Sent Deeper Into Ruhr District—Germans Called Upon to Deliver Firearms.

Paris, March 9.—The allied military lines were today advanced to a point only five miles from Essen. This important German industrial and coal mining city, which is the seat of the gigantic Krupp works, is now within easy range of the allied artillery.

The night passed calmly and without incident in all the three Ruhr district cities taken over by the allies Tuesday—Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort.

London, March 9.—British warships arrived off Cuxhaven, Germany, today, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin. (Cuxhaven lies at the estuary of the Elbe river on the North sea. Before the war it was fortified. It is 58 miles northwest from Hamburg and is the seat of the station for Hamburg pilots.)

London March 9.—The allied supreme council at a meeting at Premier Lloyd George's official residence at 100 Downing street, this afternoon approved seizure of German customs houses along the Rhine. It was decided that all funds and equivalents in the seized customs depots should be credited to the German reparations fund. After the discussion of economic penalties for Germany the allied premiers took up the Turkish-Greek dispute in the near east.

Paris, March 9.—The allied troops that advanced on the Rhine sent patrols deeper into the Ruhr district, establishing a line encircling completely the German cities of Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort which had been occupied Tuesday.

General Gaucher, who led the French advance into Dusseldorf, issued a proclamation calling upon all Germans, except the police to surrender all their arms and ammunition within 48 hours.

The inter allied high commission has established censorship upon the telegraph and telephone lines in all the zones of occupation—both the new and the old—including the small area held by United States troops at Coblenz. Dispatches received from the International News Service correspondent with the allied armies, were marked "censored" and were delayed about eight or ten hours arriving here from Dusseldorf and Neuss. This censorship will last for eight days and will either be extended or abolished.

ALLIED INVASION CANCELS TREATY SAYS GERMAN PRESS

Papers Say Treaty Is Treated as "Scrap of Paper."

Berlin, March 9.—From the communists organ Rote Fahne (red flag) to the Monarchist newspaper Deutsche Zeitung, the German press today viewed the advance of the allied armies on the Rhine as "cancellation of Germany's obligations under the treaty of Versailles."

"The entente has formally begun a new war, having torn up the peace treaty with the mailed fist as though it were a scrap of paper," said Vorwaerts, official organ of the German socialists.

"The tearing up of the peace treaty is historical fact," said Rote Fahne. Vorwaerts compared the military operations of Marshall Foch with the violation of Belgium by the ex-kaiser in 1914.

A great diplomatic council is to be held here in a few days. The German ambassadors at London, Brussels and Paris have all been ordered to return to Berlin to take part.

Chancellor Fehrenbach, in an address to the reichstag, said that the advance of the allies brought a solemn hour to Germany, but that "it was impossible to estimate the situation fully until Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, arrived from London."

Holdings of Corn, Wheat, Barley and Oats on Ohio Farms Above Average

Increase Is Shown Over Last Few Years, Report.

Columbus, O., March 9.—That the holdings of corn, wheat, oats and barley on Ohio farms on March 1 were somewhat above the average holdings for the last few years is shown in the state-federal crop report released here this afternoon.

The amount of corn on Ohio farms March 1 was about 74,566,000 bushels, or 46 per cent of the 1920 crop, against 61,320,000 bushels, or 38 per cent of the 1919 crop on farms March 1, 1920, and 37,584,000 bushels, or 29 per cent of the 1918 crop on farms March 1, 1919. About 18 per cent

FRENCH SEIZE GERMAN SHIPPING AND MANUFACTURING CENTERS IN ADVANCE

Shaded portion of map indicates part of Germany occupied by the allies and U. S. troops since the armistice. The three great bridgeheads at Cologne, Coblenz and Mayence were occupied by British, American and French troops as strategic points from which to attack should the occasion arise. Above Cologne, on the German side of the Rhine, can be seen Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort, taken by French troops soon after the advance into Germany was ordered.

The occupation of the important sections of Germany by the allies to punish Germany for its failure to accept the allied reparations terms has begun. The first aggressive move was made by French troops which crossed the Rhine north of Cologne and took possession of Dusseldorf, Ruhrort and Duisburg. All three cities are important shipping and manufacturing centers. In addition to occupying these centers, the allies' plans call for imposition by each country of such a tax on German imports as may seem fitting and the establishment of a customs boundary under allied control along the Rhine.

Recommend Abolishment Of Uniform Tax Ruling

Report Submitted To Governor Davis By Citizens' Taxation Committee Provides New Plans Governing Taxation In Ohio.

Columbus, O., March 9.—Recommendations that the state constitution be amended so as to abolish the uniform rule in taxation and to provide for income and inheritance taxes and for a 15 mill tax limit in municipalities and for a 12 mill limit outside of municipal corporations are contained in the report submitted to Gov. Davis by his citizen's taxation committee.

The committee has completed its hearings relative to suggestions for a permanent taxation program which the state legislature will be asked to enact into law.

The proposed constitutional amendment, provides however that laws may be passed authorizing additional tax rates to be levied in any taxing district for specific purposes and periods, upon the approval of a majority of those voting at a general election in such district and that no state tax in excess of 1 mill shall be levied on property according to value.

The committee would exempt public and charitable property and household goods up to $500.

It is proposed that the constitutional amendment become effective January 1 next, if adopted in November and that the following be exempted from the tax rate limitations: Sinking fund levies for 1913 flood emergency bonds and other similar bonds now outstanding, local road levies for state highway improvement contribution so far as anticipated by outstanding bonds, and levies to meet soldiers bonus bonds, if they should be approved in November.

If adopted the proposed constitutional amendment the committee declared would do away with the greater part of the state tax levy, thereby avoiding a source of friction between the taxing districts; compel an income tax; make available to the legislature many sources of revenue which it has been found impossible to reach for taxation under the uniform rule, and afford an opportunity for a taxing system which can be enforced.

COSTA RICA TAKES TROOPS FROM THE SIXAOLA RIVER

Balboa, Panama Canal Zone, March 9.—The withdrawal of the Costa Rican troops across the Sixaola river has been completed, and it is expected that the Panamanians will withdraw from the disputed village of Coto, on the Panama-Costa Rica frontier, tomorrow, leaving the district in the hands of the civil authorities. While no official announcement has been made belief is growing in certain circles that Panama will accept the American offer of mediation upon the basis of the White award. The national assembly is expected to give the Porras government a vote of confidence today.

CAUTION WILL BE AIM TOWARD FOREIGN ISSUE

Harding To Proceed Slowly In the European Affairs.

INTEREST AT HOME

Will Remove U. S. Troops From Rhine As Soon as Possible.

Washington, March 9.—There were unmistakable signs today that the new administration is going to proceed slowly and with extreme caution in straightening out the kinks in our European relations.

The allied occupation of German territory and the tide of revolution which for the first time in three years bids fair to engulf soviet Russia, are two situations that are being closely watched by the administration. But they are being scrutinized more against the time when American policies must be formulated than with any idea of taking steps immediately.

In the five days that he has been in the White House, President Harding has conferred with scores of men, high up in public and business life but the overwhelming burden of his talk has concerned conditions at home and not abroad. With only two men—Secretary of State Hughes and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge—has he discussed international affairs and even with these the conversation is described as "general" in character.

Keeping Promise
Those in confidence of the new president said today that this was in keeping with the promise often made by Senator Harding during the campaign—that if elected he would adopt a policy of putting our own house in order first—before attempting to cross either the Atlantic or the Pacific.

The Panama-Costa Rica controversy so far as is known is the only international issue to which the new administration has given serious attention and this is so close to home that it is considered practically a domestic issue.

President Harding is more or less committed to the recall of American troops from the Rhine so soon as that is found practicable. During the campaign he frequently asserted that American troops "had no business" there and "they should be home." The allied advance into German territory, however, has altered the aspect of this problem materially and if there has been any intention on the part of the new administration of immediately returning these troops it is now considered virtually certain that such intention will not be carried out for the present at least.

Might World Damage

To call for the return of the troops now might result in embarrassing England, France and Belgium and would certainly be construed in Germany as widening the crack which admittedly exists between the policies of this government and the allies.

The same situation exists to a great extent in the proposed passage of the Knox resolution declaring a state of peace with Germany. Following the example of their candidate, Republican speakers during the campaign told their audiences that if the Republican ticket were elected there would be peace with Germany "as a republican congress could pass such a measure for a Republican executive to sign."

Whether this resolution will be presented and urged to immediate passage when the new congress assembles early in April appeared problematical today.

SOON TO BEGIN PROBE OF TRIAL

WILL MAKE EFFORT TO ESTABLISH FACTS IN MURDER CASE

Cleveland, March 9.—William L. David, a member of the law firm of Tolles, Hogsett, Ginn and Morley, will make the probe ordered by the Cleveland Bar Association into the killing of Harold C. Kagy in connection with which William H. McGannon, former chief justice of the municipal court and John W. Joyce have already been tried.

An effort will be made to establish the facts surrounding Kagy's death last May and at the same time the representative of the bar association will assist Prosecutor E. C. Stanton in the investigation of alleged perjury in connection with the trials. Three have already been indicted charged with this offense and one is said to have confessed.

STATE LAUNDRY OWNERS SELECT MEETING CITIES

Dayton, O., March 9.—Columbus was given the 1922 state convention of the Ohio Laundry Owners' Association, at the close of the convention here last night and Cleveland was declared the national convention meeting place. Officers were elected as follows: President, John Meister, Toledo; First Vice President, J. C. Morgan, Youngstown; Second Vice President, R. W. Wood, Akron; Secretary, W. L. Stoneberger, Dayton; Treasurer, W. P. Lapman, Cincinnati; Sergeant at Arms, R. C. Snyder, Dayton.

GAME PROTECTORS TO PROVIDE SPORT FOR OHIO HUNTERS

Columbus, March 7.—According to A. C. Baxter, Chief of the Bureau of Fish and Game of Ohio, the work of the game protectors this year is going to be productive. It will be a part of their work to produce game for Ohio sportsmen and farmers, as well as to arrest those who "violate the game laws. Game protectors will be schooled in game breeding and will have personal charge of hunting and rearing pheasants, wild turkeys and other game in their various counties this year. Game reared by the protectors, as well as the game birds and animals reared on the game farm at Wellington, will be distributed on game refuge or sanctuary territory. The state is now dotted with sanctuaries, and before the next hunting season it is planned to have the sanctuaries in every county as well as in the Lake Erie marshes and on wild lands in southern Ohio.

A bill to be introduced by Senator J. P. Atwood, will provide for public hunting grounds on wild lands, to be leased or purchased with hunters' license money. This will take much of the trespassing from farm lands and will give Ohio sportsmen a place of their own on which to camp and hunt. Some of this land can be leased for ten cents an acre and some can be purchased very cheaply. Lake Erie marsh territory will also be acquired wherever possible for the benefit of the sportsmen of the state.

Spawning grounds are to be set aside in East, West or Middle Harbors. This is a measure that many northern Ohio fishermen have advocated for some time. Spawning grounds will also be set aside and closed to fishing during the spawning season in all the inland lakes and reservoirs and along many streams.

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

It is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

Just as she prepares herself for it, so will most favorable conditions prevail when her child is born.

MOTHER'S FRIEND is a balm for the nerves, an intensely penetrating lubricant that softens the muscles, relaxes tension of the delicate organism involved in maternity, and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practical delivery.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth."

"Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as profuse as in my youthful days."

True Hair Growth at Last

"That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the then mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

Besides playing her two solos, Miss Trone played all the accompaniments. Four songs were played on the organ, and the remainder of the program on the piano. Miss Trone is a gold medal graduate of the College of Music, Cincinnati, and has been heard many times in this city.

SEARCHLIGHT CLUB MEETS ON TUESDAY

"Discrimination in Reading" was the topic chosen by Mr. Bernis Brien, of Dayton, for his interesting address given before the members of the Searchlight Club of the O. S. and S. O. Home at the meeting held in the parlor of the main building, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Brien had consulted with the Dayton Public Library for the material for his talk, in which he advised the use of the plan of reading among the pupils of the Home as followed by the Boy's and Girls' Shelf of Reading in the Dayton Library.

The afternoon's program also included an address by Dr. W. A. Galloway of this city, upon "Hints on the Health of Children," which was of particular interest to the members of the club. Another address was given by Prof. W. S. Sackett upon "Cooperation of Matron and Teacher. Several musical selections by Major W. L. Campbell concluded the program.

The remainder of the club session was in charge of the social committee composed of Miss Techia Hess, Miss Nellie Cherry and Miss Katherine Smith. A refreshment course was served. Palms and green flowers made very attractive decorations for the parlor for the club meeting. Mrs. Margaret Elton as hostess of the afternoon was assisted by Mrs. Lydia Hudson.

FAIL TO REACH FINAL DECISION ON VOTE PRECINCTS

No final decision as to the number of precincts to be created in Greene County or Xenia City was arrived at by the Greene County Board of Elections at its meeting Tuesday, at which time the reprecincting plan was discussed.

The townships and villages that will be divided however, were fixed by the Board, although the number to be made in each township and village, and the total number to exist in the county after the reprecincting was not decided upon.

Bath township, Beavercreek, Cae-sareek, Cedarville, Jefferson, New Jasper, Ross, Silvercreek and Xenia townships, are the townships that will be divided into two or more precincts. The villages to be divided are Cedarville, Jamestown and Yellow Springs, while the number of precincts in Xenia city will also be increased.

The other precincts will not be changed, according to the present plans. These are Miami township, east and west, Spring Valley township, East and West and Sugar creek township, and the village of Fairfield, Bellbrook, Spring Valley and Bowersville. Osborn, which now has 446 voters, will be left as it is for the present, until present litigation between that village and the village of Fairfield, is settled, and the village becomes permanently located. The village will probably be divided however, before the August primary.

The reprecincting of the county was made necessary by the enfranchisement of the women, thus practically doubling the number of voters in the county. As there is a maximum fixed for each precinct, it is necessary to divide the majority of the townships and villages, so that no one precinct will have more than the maximum number of voters permitted. This work will be done by the Board with consideration for the expenses entailed to the districts by the increase in precincts, and the number to be added will not be made greater than is absolutely necessary, according to P. H. Cresswell, Secretary of the Board.

As the total number of precincts to be created has not yet been decided upon, the Board still has considerable work before it before the entire precinct arrangements of the county has been changed to meet the needs of the increased number of voters.

FORMULATE PLANS FOR A SCHOOL OF METHOD IN COUNTY

Plans for a school of method, at which the fundamental principles of child welfare and citizenship will be taught, were formulated at the meeting of county executives of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. Walter Dean, on West Church street, Tuesday afternoon.

Representatives were present at the meeting from many surrounding towns including Bowersville, Jamestown, and Spring Valley. Plans were voted upon and unanimously adopted, by the W. C. T. U. executives.

The school of method will be held at Bowersville, May 3, and it was decided at the meeting to engage Mrs. Elizabeth Perkins, of Ann Arbor, Mich., to address the school on that date. Mrs. Perkins is the national director of child welfare, of the W. C. T. U. The school session will be devoted to the instruction of good citizenship and child welfare, under her leadership.

It is the plan of the executives of the League to hold schools at each of the local unions in the county, which will be opened during this month, at which regular instruction will be given upon the same type as the school of method. The League has chosen these topics, which will be enforced and given attention through the proposed schools in the near future.

Other plans which were discussed at the meeting were protests against gambling and the character of certain shows which come to this city, at the time of the Greene County Fair, and the sale of narcotics, in connection with the five-year campaign which has been staged by the W. C. T. U. Anti-Tobacco League over the county.

ALL DAY HEARING ON ROAD PLAN HELD TUESDAY

A hearing on the proposed improvement of the Cedarville and Jamestown road, was held before the County Commissioners Tuesday, the session lasting practically all day.

The question under discussion is whether the county shall ask state aid in improving the road, and going ahead with the improvement, at the regular assessment costs to the property owners along the road. Property owners along the road were invited to the hearing and about twenty representatives of the land owners of the district attended.

The Commissioners did not act immediately on the question, but have reserved their decision, which will probably be announced later this week.

The bill also authorizes each county to create not more than three assistant county superintendents, if the presidents of a majority of village and township boards so petition.

The bill, by Rep. Albaugh, Miami county, fixing minimum weights of carload shipments of livestock so as to induce railroads to place a lower number of meat animals in cars, passed the house almost unanimously. The bill goes to the senate.

For the second time, the house defeated the Wenner bill providing for physical education in schools. The measure was originally defeated on Feb. 24 but had been reconsidered.

FARM ACCOUNTING SCHOOLS ARE WELL ATTENDED IN COUNTY

The Farm Accounting schools which were held by the Farm Bureau at Yellow Springs were well attended.

R. F. Taber, Farm Accounting Specialist of the Ohio State University had charge of the meetings. In the afternoon sessions he explained the use of the Account Book and showed those present how to keep accounts.

In the evening meetings he explained the relation of the account book to the Income Tax and also showed what use can be made of the accounts to help a farmer better his own business. About forty account books were distributed.

Through a co-operative arrangement between the Farm Bureau and County Superintendent H. C. Aultman this simple account book will be introduced soon into the Public Schools as a part of the regular school course in the eighth grade. This will enable the boys and girls to apply some of their knowledge direct by keeping accounts on their father's farms.

WILL LIBERALIZE INTREPRETATIONS OF VOLSTEAD LAW

Washington, March 9.—A sweeping decision which will liberalize interpretations of the Volstead dry law, was made public by revenue Commissioner Williams today. The decision which throws into discard several existing regulations was the last opinion drawn by A. Mitchell Palmer before retirement as attorney general.

The ruling holds among other things that the government has no power under the prohibition law to limit the quantity of liquors of whatever kind, manufactured or sold for non beverage purposes. It was further declared that certain rules proposed to limit the number of permits for the production of such liquors would in effect be an "amendment" to the law itself and are invalid.

GREENE COUNTY TO DECIDE ON REQUEST FOR SENDING CORN

The Greene County Farm Bureau will take action regarding the request for corn from the farmers for European relief, at a meeting of the executive committee of the organization to be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

County Farm Agent Ford S. Prince, has called the meeting, following the receipt of a telegram from the relief headquarters, asking for action on such a course.

Ohio farmers have been asked to contribute 500,000 bushels of either white or yellow corn for the purpose, and the grain will be shipped to the seaboard by the railroads free of charge. Other states have been asked to contribute 3,000,000 bushels. It is planned to have 2,000,000 bushels of corn for Polish relief, 1,000,000 for the relief of European children and 500,000 for relief in the Near East. Action regarding the quota of Greene County farmers will be taken at the meeting Wednesday night.

WANTED, LESS LIQUOR AND MORE LAWS AGAINST IMBECILE USERS THEREOF.

"Any man who drives an automobile while intoxicated should be either in a jail or a lunatic asylum."

In Philadelphia, one day last week, a man named Frederick, was arrested on the charge of operating an automobile while drunk. When arraigned before a magistrate it was found that he had been out on a $1000 bail on a similar charge since last October.

If, under the first offense, he had been in jail, as he should have been, the second killing would have been avoided.

The case attracts especial interest in that city at this time because of the campaign to send reckless and drunken drivers to jail, which already has resulted in the imprisonment of Byron E. Wrigley. Last week Wrigley was sent to prison for three years.

In the last case Magistrate Stevenson showed that he, for one, was bent on stopping reckless driving. He held Frederick in $5000 bail for court. An assistant police surgeon testified that Frederick was drunk at the time he was arrested.

The evil that men do to themselves by liquor drinking is bad enough to condemn the habit, but when it comes to injury to others because of their imbecility from drunkenness, the heaviest penalties should be inflicted.

Give a man several years in jail to reflect on his crime and perhaps we will have less of this particular form of human depravity.

The number of accidents from automobiles, in the very character of the vehicle driven by motor power, with people at their best, is a large one, and to be deplored, but when it comes to having this number augmented by drunken drivers it presents a case that needs heroic treatment and should have it every time. As the saying is, the law "should have teeth," in it for all such lunatics.

IF GERMANY HAD WON.

While considering the bill of damage the Allies are now trying to impose on Germany, it is just as well to keep in mind what the bill would have been if Germany had won the war.

It is a matter of record that in 1917, when Kaiser Wilhelm fully expected to crush the Allies, he declared that they would have to pay Germany 500,000,000,000 gold marks, and that his estimate was laid before the Reichstag in a speech by a high government official and met with enthusiastic approval.

Those five hundred thousand million marks would have meant $120,000,000,000. Compare that with the sum of reparation annuities now demanded from Germany, which is $55,000,000,000. It is nearly twice as much as the annuities and the objectionable export tax together. And it is to be remembered always that Germany wanted to extort that vast sum from the nations she had attacked, thereby doubly wronging them, whereas the Allies are trying, however, ineffectively or mistakenly, to obtain partial money compensation for the damage Germany deliberately inflicted on them.

THE GREAT FLOOD OF IMMIGRATION THREATENS INDUSTRY AND LABOR.

The present flood of immigration is perhaps the most pressing, the most important and most vital question before the country today. The United States has reached the point of saturation, and failure to recognize this fact may result in the loss of the American type.

Unless this new and monstrous wave of immigration is stopped or controlled it will injure both industry and labor. Congress therefore has been asked to put a two year ban on immigration.

Approximately 25,000,000 Europeans desire to immigrate to the United States. Immigration officials state that seven out of ten are dependents—women, children and old men. Nine out of ten settle in our already congested cities, making bad conditions worse, and a large number of these newcomers are revolutionary radicals who add to the forces of social unrest.

It is true we need many of these people, but where? On the farms, for instance. The farmers are crying for help all the time. Our coal mines need men, so do our cotton fields and a great many other places where solid, sober and substantial people of good intent would be welcome. But, unfortunately, the foreigners show a very great disinclination to this kind of work. Aliens arriving in this country refuse to work on farms because they get more for their labors in the cities. Visit the great manufacturing plants and you will find them full of alien workers, a large majority of whom were farm laborers in the country of their origin. Immigration to supply our farm owners with labor is a hopeless proposition.

America has always been a haven of refuge to the oppressed of all nations and seekers after liberty. But the days of autocracy and political oppression have passed in Europe, except in Russia, where the slaves of yesterday are the masters of today. The labor question, moreover, is not sentimental, it is economic.

The present alien influx is not desirable because at the present time we are not politically, economically or industrially prepared for assimilation. Our schools are crowded, our housing problem is acute and our congested cities, to which the foreigners naturally drift, are overrun with criminals.

America can take care of a trickle of immigration, but not a flood. Temporary restriction of immigration is one of the chief measures that will preserve the national unity of our country.

As to Mexico, "tell it to the Marines."

"Canned talk" is like canned fruit—it often becomes spoiled in the container.

When we are in the habit of thinking of armies in terms of millions or soldiers, we are prone to laugh at Panama's valiant attempt to place "a contemptible little army" of 500 in the field against Costa Rica.

Although the sun may be shining brightly early these March mornings, and we are tempted to leave our umbrella at home, it is well to remember that all is not gold that glitters.

The spring drive against dirt will soon be on in full swing, and the heavy bombardment in back yards will be started when father gets his 75 m. m. carpet beater into action.

Darkness Enfolds Xenia's Streets Tuesday Night as Power Fails

Xenia was as dark as a western movie plot Tuesday night!

The proverbial epithet concerning the mysterious episode of the whereabouts of Mosses, when he blew out the gas, was on everybody's lips.

In like proportion, rain was trickling down everybody's neck, everybody's feet was splashing along in every puddle of water, and everybody's umbrella gouged a hole in everybody else's, as silk met cotton in the blackness of the night.

An Italian, wielding his stiletto in true Marion Crawford style, could have carved a square slice out of the solid blackness that hung like a cold on the chest, all over Main, Detroit, Second, Third streets and environs. And the atmosphere would have shed blood black as ink.

Pedestrians were as much lost on the familiar thoroughfares of the city, as though they were in a moving picture jungle or a Coney Island crazy house. One man, starting toward the business section at seven o'clock was arrested on a charge of plain drunk at ten o'clock. He had wandered around in a ring within a ring within a square of his own house, until he was dizzy and exhausted.

Late at night, a few street lights flickered up half-heartedly. Like a lighted match in the subway. They cast pale yellow gleams over a small section of the city covered by rain and its accomplices, fortunately they helped guide a few late pedestrians from the pitfalls of curb stones, and the provoking puddles.

During the evening, many people kept their porch lights lit, offering a regular lighthouse beacon for the belated traveller. Later when the city retired, side streets leading off of Main and Detroit look like dark tunnels. It was impossible to see farther than a few feet ahead.

Line trouble, near Wilbur Wright field, occasioned the failure of the supply of "juice" from Dayton Power & Light Company, said H. E. Heathman, manager of the local branch Wednesday morning. The lines were in trouble at intervals all day, and the Company was fortunate in keeping enough power at night for residences and business houses, and the few streets lights that crept out like stars after a rain, toward midnight.

Is It Yours?

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF AMERIGO VESPUCCI

March 9, 1451

Amerigo Vespucci, an Italian merchant and adventurer achieved immortality by giving his name America to the New World as "America." He was born at Florence, Italy, in 1451, and became a student of philosophy and geography under the influence of his uncle. His father, however placed him as a clerk in the commercial house of the Medici the ruling family of Florence. He seems to have been contented as agent of the Medici while on business for them to have become interested in the new continent as agent of the Medici.

Shortly after Columbus' great discovery became the talk of the old world, ships full of adventurers left Spain for the west. Vespucci claims to have sailed with one of these free lance expeditions in 1497. He also claims to have started on a second voyage two years later and a third voyage two years after that in 1501. He claims still another one and says he built a fort in the harbor he landed at.

If his accounts of his trips had been trustworthy, Vespucci would have reached the main land of America eight days before the English explorer, John Cabot, reached here. But in spite of many letters that he wrote about it, students have since decided that he did not make the 1497 voyage therefore had no share in the discovery of America. Nevertheless his name was given to it, though more properly it should be called Columbia. Vespucci died in 1512.

HOW ADVERTISING REDUCES THE H. C. L.

The Key
Experience Says
A Hard Job
Push or Pull
Look Out for Him

AN EDITORIAL
ON BUYING

Increased volume of sales is the key to lower manufacturing and selling costs.

Lower costs are the first requisite of lower prices.

Modern business must be organized on a volume basis to accomplish the efficiency in manufacture which modern labor-saving machinery makes possible.

It must be organized on a volume basis to permit the economies in selling which up-to-date methods promote.

Advertising, whether that of manufacturer or middleman, is first of all a selling agent—a producer of volume in business.

Other means, such as personal salesmanship, might be used to produce equal volume, but they are slow and costly by comparison.

In the so-called good old days, before advertising had become a really important factor in the world's commercial life, the prevailing method of selling was the one which is sometimes called the "push" method. Manufacturers, by active personal salesmanship, pushed their goods out to jobbers, or wholesalers, who in turn pushed it out to retail dealers, upon whom fell the task of pushing it out to the public.

This involved a lot of selling effort all along the line, if sales were to be maintained and increased.

Moreover, the manufacturer gave the dealer little or no help in moving the goods from the store into the hands of those who were finally to buy and use them.

It was a mighty hard and expensive task to build up a large volume of business under this system. Furthermore, different sections of the country demanded different styles or models, so that a manufacturer might be turning out twenty or thirty or forty items in his line, when two or three would have been sufficient had he been able to control the market and standardize his wares.

Today progressive manufacturers have abandoned the method of "push" in favor of the method of "pull" the backbone of which is advertising. Through advertising they create among possible buyers an interest in their products and a desire for them. Sometimes this interest and desire crystallize in actual demand for that

AMBITIOUS WIVES.

I've seen some husbands wet with tears who might have learned to sing and dance, had but their wives, the dimpled dears, but given them a decent chance. I'm thinking now of Hiram Hick, who presses hard against the hames, and life's to him a gilded brick because his wife has "social aims." She gives a party every week, or riot of some other kind; and Hiram sees his roubles leak; she makes his assets hard to find. A tea to honor Mrs. Jones may be the proper thing to give, but Hiram's shy a hundred bones, and wonders why such females live. His wife must have a costly gown appropriate to each event; and Hiram totters through the town, and smokes a torch that cost a cent. He makes good money every year, and if his wife would mend her ways he well might read his title clear to Easy Street and happy days. But she must trot with richer folk, and mingle with the Upper Ten, and so poor Hiram's always broke and sighing for lost iron men. But in his grief he's not alone; a million husbands toil and spin, and every time they earn a bone their wives go forth to blow it in. A million husbands drudge and slave and toil along on weary feet; and if their wives would help them save, they all might dwell in Easy Street.

THE EXTRA-HENNA SHAMPOO

Sometimes I find that my readers are a little confused about the difference between the henna shampoo which is simply cleansing; the extra-henna shampoo which is to color the grey hairs and so make them less noticeable in light or dark hair; and henna when used as a dye.

The distinction is this:—the henna shampoo is made of henna and soap. It cleanses the hair and its only action is to give it a more brilliant tone. Henna used as a dye makes the hair auburn, but the extra henna shampoo does not change the color of the hair at all. The only thing it does is to make the grey hairs a golden yellow and so keep them from being so conspicuous.

This is the only method to use for the extra-henna shampoo:—shampoo the hair as usual, using castile or any soap containing pure oil. Rinse the hair with hot water and gradually with cooler water until it is free from soap and from dirt. Mix up a small quantity of powdered Egyptian henna with hot water, until you have a paste about the consistency of thick cream. Cover the scalp with this, while the hair is still wet and while the paste is still hot and let it stay on for exactly three minutes.

Rinse off with hot water and then cold, and let your hair dry. The scalp absorbs enough from the henna to color the hairs which have no coloring matter in them; in other words, the conspicuous grey hairs. The rest of your hair will not be changed, except that it will probably be a little glossier.

Within three days you will see the full effects of the henna. If the three minute treatment doesn't sufficiently color the hairs leave the henna on four or five minutes. You can only tell exactly by experimenting, but if you follow these methods exactly, you can color these hairs without affecting the shade of the rest of your hair.

manufacturer's particular make or brand of goods.

Sometimes they create simply a preference, which makes it more difficult for the dealer or other representative to sell any other than that particular make or brand.

Experience over a period of many years has shown that this result can be accomplished at a cost which is more than offset by the advantages which accompany it—advantages not alone to the manufacturer and middleman, but to you, the buyer.

Besides increasing demand and thereby enlarging volume of sales and production, advertising operates in other ways to effect more efficient and less costly manufacture.

It helps to standardize output by creating national markets to supplant separate sectional or purely local markets. It stimulates the manufacturer's own organization. It assists him to attract a good class of employees. It renders more easily obtainable the capital needed for expansion and progress, and in many other ways aids him in turning out the very best kind of product at the lowest figure.

The dealer's selling costs are reduced because he does more business with less effort. His turnover, or the number of times he sells out his stock during a given period, is accelerated, so that he is able to get along with less profit on each sale and yet make more money.

These are some of the facts which have been responsible for the tremendous growth in advertising. They are some of the facts which should make clear to you why you will find better values in advertised goods.

Once in a while, even today, you may encounter a dealer who will try to lure you into buying some unadvertised article in preference to a similar advertised article with the plausible untruth, "We can sell it to you cheaper because it isn't advertised." Whenever you encounter that kind of dealer, look out!

TIRE INSPECTOR GETS RESULTS

Akron Man Says He Is Certainly Thankful For What Tanlac Has Done For Him.

The gratifying results being obtained from Tanlac is further evidenced in the case of L. L. Chapman, of 64 S. 26th St., Kenmore, Ohio, well-known inspector at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co's plant No. 1, Akron. Here is what he says: "When a man is hungry and is afraid to sit down and eat a good meal on account of having to suffer from indigestion and stomach trouble, he is in a pretty bad fix, and that just hits the nail on the head in my case before I got Tanlac. Nothing I ate agreed with me and I would bloat until I could hardly breathe. I felt as tired on getting up mornings as I did when I went to bed the night before and was losing weight and strength every day."

"A friend got me to try Tanlac, and although I've just taken one bottle so far my food seems to agree with me, for my stomach no longer troubles me. I'm rapidly regaining my weight and strength, too, and am going to take Tanlac a while longer until it builds me up and puts me in the very best of health. I don't believe it can be beat anywhere, and am certainly thankful for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill; in Yellow Springs by A. Finley; Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young; Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

Tired Out?

Do you know that languidness, that "awful tired feeling," heaviness, lame or weak back, sore muscles, stiff or swollen joints, rheumatic pains, lumbago, in the great majority of cases, indicate kidney trouble?

Foley Kidney Pills

act promptly and effectively to restore weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder to a healthy condition.

Mrs. Robert Blair, 401 S. 20th Street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I suffered two years with kidney and bladder trouble frequently getting backache. Mornings I would arise feeling very tired and having headaches, and see floating spots before my eyes. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and made up my mind to try them. After taking them a few weeks I found my trouble disappeared. My backache stopped and my kidneys were restored to healthy, normal action. I am also free of those tired spells and headaches and my vision is no longer blurred. My recovery is entirely due to Foley Kidney Pills, which I gladly recommend."

METEORS TO MEET GEM CITY TEAM IN SEASON SWAN SONG

St. Brigids Meteor basketball team will sing its seasonal swan song at the rink, Wednesday night, meeting the Oakwoods, 135 pound champions of Dayton, in the grand finale.

Coach Haller's lads were to have finished their season with a game with the University of Dayton Maroons, but the University quintet cancelled the contest, and the Oakwood aggregation was booked in its stead.

Preliminary to the big game, St. Brigids Cadets and another team of like calibre will mix it up, starting at 7:30 o'clock and the big game will start at 8:30 o'clock. The Meteors have won ten games and lost four this season, and propose to make this record constant by turning in another win at the expense of the Dayton outfit.

HOME CADETS LAND TWELFTH VICTORY

The O. S. & S. O. Home Cadets chalked up their twelfth straight court conquest at the Armory Saturday night by defeating a Dayton team 33-13, in a contest in which the locals displayed fine defensive form, an unerring eye on the basket and a remarkable consistency in foul shots. The lineup and summary:

Substitutions: Sherman for Lutz

The Cadets play the Winter National Bank, tied for first place in the Dayton bank league, at Dayton next Saturday night. The game is for the benefit of the Home Memorial building fund.

ANTIOCH ACADEMY AND VARSITY PLAY

Antioch College Varsity and the Antioch Academy five will battle on the court at the Yellow Springs School Wednesday evening. The Academy lads feel that they can make the Varsity outfit step out to win, and believe that they have a good chance to win from the upper classmen. The game is the first inter-mural match arranged at the college.

AGAINST BETTING ON BASEBALL GAMES

Lansing.—George H. Maines, president of the Michigan-Ontario League is backing a bill introduced in the Michigan State Legislature making it a felony either to bet on ball games or to offer a bribe to a player. It is believed the measure will pass both branches of the Legislature.

DINNER STORIES

Teacher—Where did the Pilgrims land?
Johnny—I don't know whether it was on a Plymouth Rock or a Rhode Island Red.

In the departed days a some-befuddled guest appeared unsteadily before the desk of a smart hotel and demanded in thick but firm tones that his room be changed.

"I'm sorry," the clerk humored him. "But all the rooms are taken."

"Mush have 'nother room," insisted the guest.

"What's the matter with the room you have now?"
"Well, if you mush know," explained the dissatisfied tenant, "ish on fire."

A visiting clergyman was conducting an experience meeting at a colored church in the south, and a woman arose and bore witness to the preciousness of her religion as a light bringer and a comfort giver.

"That's good, sister," said the minister. "But how about the practical side? Does your religion make you strive to prepare your husband a good dinner? Does it make you look after him in every way?"

As he paused he felt a yank at his coat-tails and heard the colored deacon whisper ardently: "Press dem questions. Dat's my wife."

Statistics show that only 5,000,000 persons paid income taxes this year.

Which proves conclusively that an overwhelming majority of our 110,000,000 citizens are happy, contented and have comparatively nothing to worry about.—Life.

CAN'T "HIP" LIQUOR TO COLLEGE PROM

Madison, Wis.—University of Wisconsin authorities have launched a determined drive against bootleg booze. The courts and District Attorney have been listed in the fight to uncover the ring that supplies students with liquor.

Four co-eds asked to "resign" from the university for drinking have implicated the men supplying them, and these in turn have implicated others. Students planning to attend the junior prom, the big social event of the year have been warned that no "hip liquor" will be permitted.

ANTIOCH TOURNEY PATRONS WILL GET MEALS AT COLLEGE

In seven years in which the Antioch College County basketball tournament has been the court classic of the year, there has never been the interest involved in the annual cage arguments as is being displayed this season.

The mix-up which starts next Friday afternoon with 11 boys' teams and seven girls teams, battling for separate championship titles and separate loving cups, promises in all respects to be the most keenly fought and enthusiasm arousing, set of basket games, that has yet graced the floor of old Kelly Gym, since the inception of the tournament plan under Congressman S. D. Fess, then president, and his original and athletic-loving sons Lowell and Sumner.

This year the committee has planned to run both boys and girls games together, with the finals of each being played off Saturday evening, instead of having the two classes separate. Teams will register at the College Gym at 12 o'clock noon Friday and the drawing will take place immediately. Play will start at 12 o'clock. Play will be resumed at nine o'clock Saturday morning and continue until its conclusion Saturday night.

For the games Friday afternoon an admission of 15 cents will be charged, and Friday night the admission will be 25 cents. Saturday morning the admission will be 15 cents. Saturday afternoon 25 cents and Saturday evening 35 cents. Meals will be served at the College dining hall on both days, at 40 cents a plate. Plans are being made to accommodate a large number of patrons at supper Friday evening and at dinner and supper Saturday.

The best that is in a team comes out during the annual tournament games at Antioch. Each team brings a coterie of rooters that represent practically every boy or girl in school and every fan in the community from which the school comes. This is why the Gymnasium at the Yellow Springs institution is crowded annually by a crowd of spectators that taxes the standing-room-only capacity let alone the seating arrangements afforded.

In anticipation of the usual, annual crowd of rooters that assembles at the hall and each year roots against

Central High of this city in the semi-finals of finals, the local school is making preparations to send a delegation of rooters that will make itself heard from among all the crowds of noise-makers that it is expected will be on hand.

ACTION OF COUNTY EDUCATION BOARD FINDS OPPOSITION

Opposition to the recent decision of the Greene County Board of Education to cut down the number of county districts from three to two, has developed, it became known Wednesday.

This opposition has been brought to a head by the Board of Education of Sugar Creek, Xenia and Spring Valley Townships, who, it seems object to the possibility that their Superintendent, D. H. Barnes, might be relieved of his duties under the new order of things, which will take effect next September, Superintendent Barnes was only recently re-elected to the position he now holds.

Put down in black and white, these three boards are grieved for the following reasons: first, they want to retain their superintendent, as in a written statement they declare they are pleased with the advance shown by their schools; second, they want to be sure that the local boards will have a voice in the welfare of their schools; and third, they claim that effective supervision is out of the question under the new plan, for the reason that the supervising districts being increased from 37 to 46 teachers as at present to 61 and 65 under proposed arrangement, is not conducive to careful watching.

Representatives of these three township boards of education called on the County Superintendent Tuesday to voice their disapproval of the new plan. They will bring the matter up at the next meeting of the County Board, it was stated Wednesday. Superintendent Aultman could not be reached Wednesday for a statement.

In a prepared statement, Horace Anderson, president of the Xenia Township Board of Education said Wednesday:
"A year ago Mr. Bryson and Mr. Beam proposed a saving of $3,500 to the taxpayers by having the newly-elected County Superintendent of schools assigned a definite territory to supervise in connection with his official capacity, thus saving one superintendent. This was voted down. The board became divided and we fear the people must suffer."

"Why take the management of our schools away from the people and place it in the hands of a few who are least concerned? The people will not stand the turmoil. They pay the taxes and have a right to expect results."

"Under Section 4740, all rural districts maintaining first grade high schools can go out from under the county system. The change may drive some to take this action. These boards seek courteous treatment and desire harmonious relations to exist, and above all, they wish to have their schools continue as they are. These townships pay for their own supervision by taxation with the exception of $750 that the state pays. They are willing to pay for good supervision but oppose paying for poor supervision."

PRAYS FOR DELIVERY FROM RAGTIME JAZZ

Boston, March 9—"God deliver us from the iniquities of ragtime jazz," was the prayer of Bishop Edwin H. Hughes at the twenty eighth annual banquet of the New England Hardware Dealers' Association. He said that pleasures are eating the time of present-day society and urged that greater emphasis be placed on work and less on leisure in the everyday labors of men.

SHOW PHOTOGRAPHS IN INTEREST OF BEAUTIFYING CITY

Actual photographs will be used on a screen at the "town meeting" to be held at the opera house next Tuesday, March 15, in the interest of city beautification.

The meeting is being promulgated by the beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and it is hoped in this way to arouse the interest of citizens in plans to improve certain unsightly sections of the city, and create of them beauty spots and parks.

The committee has photographs of all the streets recently paved, before the paving was put down, and has since had photographs taken of the streets as they appear now. The clean new streets are in decided contrast to their former condition and also make more pronounced the untidy places along side of them.

Pictures have also been taken of prospective sites for parks and beautification improvements, and these pictures will be thrown on the screen, followed by re-touched slides, showing how those same sites will look after they are improved, if the plans of beautification committee are carried out. A picture of a map of Xenia will also be shown, showing the streets improved by pavements.

Other pictures secured to be shown at the meeting are pictures of the National Cash Register Company's plant at Dayton, taken before and after the grounds and property were improved by the proper cultivation of flowers, shrubbery and summer verdure.

A program committee, headed by Attorney C. L. Darlington is now working on a program of speakers for the evening. Landscape gardeners will be called in from other cities to explain simple plans that will mean much in transferring Xenia into a city beautiful. An attendance committee will also be appointed soon, the chairman of which will appoint the rest of the committee members whose duty it is to see that everyone is notified of the meeting, and that a good attendance is on hand.

The meeting will be carried out on the plan of the old New England "town meetings", where all citizens are invited free and where everyone is asked to take an interest in the project on hand.

CLEMENCEAU REFUSES "CANNED TALK" PLAN

Paris.—Since it has been decided to create a phonetic institute in France where the voices of all France's great men will be recorded on phonographs for future generations to hear, numerous efforts have been made to induce former Premier Clemenceau to speak a few words in the machine. This he refuses saying that when he dies his voice will die with him. He further er says that people often heard enough of his voice during his life and undoubtedly would care very little about hearing it again later on. More attempts are to be made to get the Tiger's consent when he returns from India next month.

SCORES FRANCE FOR SUFFRAGE ATTITUDE

Paris.—On the occasion of its fiftieth anniversary the French League for the rights of women publishes a book called "Fifty Years of Feminism." It carries a prelude by ex-President Raymond Poincare in which the latter addressing Madame Maria Verone, president of the league says:

"You know that I am for the rights of women. It is rather humiliating for France to see other countries gradually according women their rights of suffrage while here nothing has been done in the matter."

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown. Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young. TWO THOUSAND SEE SCHOOL PICTURE SHOW TWO DAYS LAST WEEK

Fully two thousand people saw the moving picture of "From the Manger to the Cross" when it was shown last Friday and Saturday for the benefit of the city schools. There have been so many requests for a return of this picture that arrangements have been made to have it repeated. This will be done some time next week.

At the invitation of the president and superintendent of Wilberforce University the picture was shown to a large body of students on Saturday evening.

The "Movie" program for this Friday and Saturday includes a picturization of Tennyson's immortal "Enoch Arden," "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp" of Arabian Nights' fame, and a Harold Lloyd comedy. The free show for the children who won merits during the month of February will likely be given next Saturday. This program will include probably, "The Collie Market" a beautiful picture of the Country Life Series featuring Paula Blackton and the Blackton children. There will also be an industrial and educational film on some subject like the "Manufacture of Paper."

At the invitation of Supt. Berry of the C. N. & I. at Wilberforce all the films shown on Friday and Saturday will be shown at Galloway hall at 6:30 Saturday evening.

On Friday evening the Central Grades will have the picture for a benefit in order to raise funds to carry on some needed projects for their schools.

The Spring Hill benefit last Friday evening was successful and a new sum of money was realized for the schools.

The films used by the projector which shows these pictures are safety standard non-inflammable and are approved by the Underwriter's Laboratories. The machine does not require an enclosing booth. This makes possible an unrestricted use anywhere.

The films are selected by the superintendent of schools and contain no objectionable features, says Supt. C. A. Walter. "All pictures are moral, clean and wholesome and every program contains an educational feature based upon some literary masterpiece or important historical event. Moving pictures are here to stay. There is only one way to improve conditions under which pictures are now shown in the commercial picture theatres and that is to demand that only those pictures be shown that will give the right interpretation to social life and that will build up right ideals for young people."

Under the auspices of the schools we aim to educate boys and girls to the proper appreciation of good, wholesome moving pictures. SMALLPOX REPORTED IN AKRON SCHOOLS

Akron, March 4—Nearly 1,000 students are out of school here as the result of small pox, health authorities announced.

Several hundred were sent home from Central High School shortly after noon today when it was discovered that a student absent was suffering from the disease.

Investigation showed he had exposed all in his classes several days ago.

More than 200 are out at West High, according to Dr. Malcolm R. Miller, city epidemiologist, while 300 are out at Margaret Park School.

Four cases have been found among the students of West High, Miller said. One of these exposed many students, while the other three are thought to have been kept at home before he disease reached its communicable stage, he said.

Three cases in one family exposed nearly all the students at Margaret Park school last week, Miller said. Four other suspicious cases from the same school are being closely watched.

Five new cases of the disease were reported to the health department Thursday, according to Miller, while there were 36 cases reported during February.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

JUANITA STILL BELIEVES CHAPTER 110

"What, won't you go away for a time?" I asked Dick the next morning at breakfast. "Of course I don't mean until Junior returns to school." I had seen the doleful look on my boy's face, and knew he thought I intended to leave him at home alone.

"I can't afford to go!" Dick answered shortly.

"But I can! I haven't spent nearly all I made on the Baker house and we both need a change."

"Go if you like, but leave me out of your calculation. If the book had been accepted I should have taken that yachting trip. As it is I shall remain at home and write pot boilers."

"But I couldn't have gone on the yachting trip—at least you said nothing about taking me."

"No. Somers couldn't take any more ladies. He said he was sorry—sorry not to be able to invite you. I mean that his yacht would not accommodate any more than he had asked."

"So ladies were going?"

"Yes."

I said no more, but knew I had the explanation. Juanita was to go. I wanted desperately to ask if he knew she was invited, instead I questioned as carelessly as I could:

"Who were going? Anyone I knew?"

"Yes I believe so—Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer, Linda Forrester, and Carroll, and—some others. About six in all."

"Is Juanita going?" It was out. I just couldn't help it. Dick flushed as he answered:

"I believe she was invited. I do not know whether she intends to go or not."

"I must tell Juanita about the manuscript. I think I'll walk over there and get through with it."

"That's a good idea. You will feel better when it is over. Of course you can't tell her it was her fault, her exaggerated ideas that made the book a failure." I had suggested he try another publisher, but he had declared the nature of the criticisms made it hopeless. "She was so sure it would be a success."

"So were you."

"Yes—for a time. By the way Dick, Juanita told me just now, when I called her on the telephone to find out about having her for a bridge game, that she was going on the yachting party."

Dick made no answer, but when he reached the door I called after him: "If she changes her mind, let me know."

"She'll change it all right," I said to myself "when she finds out Dick isn't going."

Dick was gone nearly all the morning.

"Well, what did Juanita say about the manuscript?" I asked knowing by his face that it had been nothing helpful.

"She raved like a maniac when I showed her the publisher's letter. She wants me to keep on sending it out until I find a publisher who will accept it. But I am sure it would be useless, and told her so."

"I'm terribly sorry for your disappointment, Dick," I said honestly, "but next time write your book alone."

"You better believe I will! If I ever attempt another."

"And you won't take a short vacation with me—why?"

"Because I am not going to let you support me any longer. I have paid scarcely anything towards the expenses for months, ever since I commenced that failure over there," he pointed to the rejected manuscript.

"I'm through letting a woman support me."

"Nonsense, Dick! What difference does it make who earns the money as long as we have enough to be comfortable? It isn't fair of you to talk like that, and you know it. You made money with your stories. You can do so again. But I think a rest, a change would do you good. Then too, Juanita may feel a bit disgruntled over the criticisms, and it will give her time to get over it." Dick, like all men, hated any sort of unpleasantness.

"I tell you I can't go!" Dick returned. "at least not now!"

Had Dick been disloyal? That he had been fascinated, carried off his feet, I had proof. I wasted my love perhaps, but I was parched for the lack of it, and it was only the love that belonged to me that I longed for. It had become almost a mania with me—this determination to hold the man who had promised to cherish me until death did us part and whom I loved more desperately every day.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

EXPECT STORM WILL BREAK OUT WITHIN SENATE

See Trouble Ahead Over the Colombian Treaty.

MESSAGE IS SENT
Situation Hinges On Word From President Harding.

Washington, March 9.—President Harding will send a message to the senate today on the Colombian treaty. The communication probably will be short and is expected to urge the immediate ratification of the treaty by the senate.

Storm warnings were visible in the senate over the disputed Colombian treaty. Opposition to its ratification by Senators Borah of Idaho, Kellogg of Minnesota and other Republicans was developing rapidly.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and chairman of the foreign relations committee indicated the situation hinged upon the special message regarding the treaty President Harding is sending to the senate.

Lodge would not discuss the situation except to state clearly he expected the treaty to be ratified at the present special session of the senate if the president so desired.

It is the purpose of Borah and his other opponents to insist that the treaty be considered and debated in open executive session, so that all that is said and done respecting it may be given the fullest publicity.

The treaty's opponents are also prepared, they say, to call attention to the fact that Lodge originally opposed the payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia for territory now a part of the Panama Canal zone as provided by the treaty and was a signer of a senate report in which the demand of Colombia for such payment was emphasized as "black-mail."

COLUMBUS MERCHANT HELD ON CHARGE OF UNLAWFUL KILLING

Arrest Follows Autopsy Performed On Body Of Girl.

Newark, O., March 9.—Ray Foster, aged about 30 years, a merchant in Mount Vernon Avenue, Columbus, was arrested by the marshal in Hebron, 9 miles west of here late yesterday afternoon charged in an affidavit with the unlawful killing of Opal Sonard, the 16 year old daughter of Mrs. E. Lind, residing at 938 1/2 Mount Vernon Avenue, Columbus, O. on Monday morning, March 7.

The making out of the affidavit by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Norpell, and the signing and swearing to the document by Coroner S. S. Richards, of this county, followed an autopsy performed upon the body of the girl at the undertaking rooms in Hebron yesterday afternoon. The surgical examination disclosed to Prosecutor Norpell and Coroner Richards that the girl was rapidly approaching motherhood. The prosecutor, when he witnessed this conclusive evidence hurried to the office of Mayor White and made out affidavit, in time to catch Foster en route from Buckeye Lake to Columbus, where he intercepted him at the Mebron station.

ESCAPED PRISONERS ARE RE-CAPTURED

GET-A-WAY EFFECTED DURING HEAVY RAINSTORM TUESDAY NIGHT

Covington, Ky., March 9.—Three of the nine prisoners who escaped from city jail at 8:30 last night during a heavy rain storm have been recaptured. The prisoners escaped by sawing the bars of their cells on the second floor and after entering a corridor sawed bars from a window and dropped to the ground. One of the escaped men, the police say, was Michael Ward, 25, convicted recently of the murder of Thomas Mahoney, 65, in a saloon in Ironton, O.

Hacksaws, saws made of case knives and twisted iron bars littered the floor of the cell room giving the appearance of a hastily abandoned machine shop.

Authorities are convinced the prisoners had outside help. This is the second jail delivery in two months.

THINK MURDERERS OF PREMIER ARE ALL COMMUNISTS

Police Fail To Find Trace Of Spaniard's Assassins.

Madrid, March 9.—The three assassins who killed Premier Eduardo Dato of Spain as he was on his way home from the chamber of deputies last night, were said by the police today to be communists.

Medical examination of the body showed that the cartridges used by the assassins had been nicked on the end with a knife so that they would expand and make death certain. The assassins had been waiting for Senator Dato. When he entered his motor car they followed on bicycles. Suddenly the three men drove up close and began firing from pistols. Twenty seven shots were fired and the premier received three wounds, any of which would have been fatal.

The chauffeur who was badly wounded during the fusillade drove the car to a hospital but M. Dato was dead upon arrival there.

The police were unable to get any definite trace of the three men who escaped upon their bicycles.

PETROGRAD QUIET DECLARES REPORT FROM CITY OF RIGA

No Disturbances at Moscow Is Word From Russia.

Riga, March 9.—Petrograd is absolutely quiet, and there are no disturbances at Moscow, said a message from George Tchitcherin, people's commissar for foreign affairs in the Moscow government to Stanislaus Ganetsky, chief of the Latvian soviet mission. This message was received Tuesday and made public today. It said further:

"There has been no mobilization at Petrograd, nor have there been any trenches dug. Crowds were not disturbed. The army was maintaining order; not communists, but regulars. There are no disturbances at Moscow."

On the other hand Riga newspapers declare the situation at Moscow is unsettled and that strikes are increasing. The soviet has prohibited all food speculation and special rations have been discontinued. Only tobacco and apples are being sold, it was said. According to the Riga press the fuel and transportation crisis continues unabated.

HARDING TO NAME BRITISH AMBASSADOR

INDICATIONS POINT TO SELECTION OF GEORGE HARVEY.

Washington, March 9.—President Harding probably will name an ambassador to Great Britain within a few days, it was learned here today.

No word has come from the White House as to the president's choice but indications point to the selection of George Harvey, editor and publicist of New York. It is reported that Harvey has been offered the post and has agreed to accept it.

President Harding is anxious to fill the post as quickly as possible, in view of the departure from England this week of Ambassador John W. Davis, whose resignation already has been received.

ALLIES ADVANCE WITHIN FIVE MILES OF ESSEN

Artillery In Easy Range of Gigantic Krupp Works—Patrols Sent Deeper Into Ruhr District—Germans Called Upon to Deliver Firearms.

Paris, March 9.—The allied military lines were today advanced to a point only five miles from Essen. This important German industrial and coal mining city, which is the seat of the gigantic Krupp works, is now within easy range of the allied artillery.

The night passed calmly and without incident in all the three Ruhr district cities taken over by the allies Tuesday—Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort.

London, March 9.—British warships arrived off Cuxhaven, Germany, today, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin.

(Cuxhaven lies at the estuary of the Elbe river on the North sea. Before the war it was fortified. It is 58 miles northwest from Hamburg and is the seat of the station for Hamburg pilots.)

London March 9.—The allied supreme council at a meeting at Premier Lloyd George's official residence at 100 Downing street, this afternoon approved seizure of German customs houses along the Rhine. It was decided that all funds and equivalents in the seized customs depots should be credited to the German reparations fund. After the discussion of economic penalties for Germany the allied premiers took up the Turkish-Greek dispute in the near east.

Paris, March 9.—The allied troops that advanced on the Rhine sent patrols deeper into the Ruhr district, establishing a line encircling completely the German cities of Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort which had been occupied Tuesday.

General Gaucher, who led the French advance into Dusseldorf, issued a proclamation calling upon all Germans, except the police to surrender all their arms and ammunition within 48 hours.

The inter allied high commission has established censorship upon the telegraph and telephone lines in all the zones of occupation—both the new and the old—including the small area held by United States troops at Coblenz. Dispatches received from the International News Service correspondent with the allied armies, were marked "censored" and were delayed about eight or ten hours arriving here from Dusseldorf and Neuss. This censorship will last for eight days and will either be extended or abolished.

ALLIED INVASION CANCELS TREATY SAYS GERMAN PRESS

Papers Say Treaty Is Treated as "Scrap of Paper."

Berlin, March 9.—From the communists organ Rote Fahne (red flag) to the Monarchist newspaper Deutsche Zeitung, the German press today viewed the advance of the allied armies on the Rhine as "cancellation of Germany's obligations under the treaty of Versailles."

"The entente has formally begun a new war, having torn up the peace treaty with the mailed fist as though it were a scrap of paper," said Vorwaerts, official organ of the German socialists.

"The tearing up of the peace treaty is historical fact," said Rote Fahne. Vorwaerts compared the military operations of Marshall Foch with the violation of Belgium by the ex-kaiser in 1914.

A great diplomatic council is to be held here in a few days. The German ambassadors at London, Brussels and Paris have all been ordered to return to Berlin to take part.

Chancellor Fehrenbach, in an address to the reichstag, said that the advance of the allies brought a solemn hour to Germany, but that "it was impossible to estimate the situation fully until Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, arrived from London."

Holdings of Corn, Wheat, Barley and Oats on Ohio Farms Above Average

Increase Is Shown Over Last Few Years, Report.

Columbus, O., March 9.—That the holdings of corn, wheat, oats and barley on Ohio farms on March 1 were somewhat above the average holdings for the last few years is shown in the state-federal crop report released here this afternoon.

The amount of corn on Ohio farms March 1 was about 74,556,000 bushels or 46 per cent of the 1920 crop against 61,329,000 bushels, or 38 per cent of the 1919 crop on farms March 1, 1920, and 37,584,000 bushels, or 29 per cent of the 1918 crop on farms March 1, 1919. About 18 per cent

GERMANS SHOW NO MALICE TO ALLIED ARMIES

"Business as Usual" Seems To Be Slogan Of the Cities.

CROWDS TURN OUT
Between Three and Four Thousand Troops In Dusseldorf.

French Military Headquarters, Neuss, Germany, March 9.—"Those fellows have excellent uniforms," remarked a German ex-soldier with interest as he gazed upon a patrol of French soldiers swinging through the streets of the occupied city of Dusseldorf.

The German's companion who also had seen service in the great war, eyed the French critically and replied:

"Fine equipment, too; ready for anything."

Then the two Germans apparently forgot all about the French army of occupation and went about their personal affairs.

"Business as usual," seemed to be the note of all the Germans not only across the Rhine in Dusseldorf, but in the other two occupied cities in the Ruhr district—Duisburg and Ruhrort.

Crowds Greet Soldiers
Crowds of German men, women and children greeted the British, French and Belgian troops everywhere. The allied troops were discussed more like visitors than invaders.

"There are no Americans among them," remarked a German in Dusseldorf after viewing the various contingents of allied soldiers. This was said in a matter of fact way with no trace of hostility against the allied troops already on the scene.

The German children were particularly interested in the new comers. The crept close to the soldiers inspecting them and their equipment with round eyed interest. But they scampered away when the soldiers took notice of them. After a time gifts of chocolate began to pass into small grimy hands and it looked as though an entente cordiale was about to be established with the younger generation.

Becomes "Old Stuff"
During the evening the occupation of the three German cities had "become old stuff" and the townspeople paid no attention to the soldiers they encountered in stores on shopping tours.

There are between 3,000 and 4,000 allied troops in Dusseldorf. The original contingents were substantially reinforced.

The French, British and Belgian sentries paced the streets during the night and stood guard on the bridges.

General Degoutte, commander of the French army of occupation who visited Dusseldorf in company with General Gouchard was apparently well satisfied with everything he found there.

FRENCH SEIZE GERMAN SHIPPING AND MANUFACTURING CENTERS IN ADVANCE

Shaded portion of map indicates part of Germany occupied by the allies and U. S. troops since the armistice. The three great bridgeheads at Cologne, Coblenz and Mayence were occupied by British, American and French troops as strategic points from which to attack should the occasion arise. Above Cologne, on the German side of the Rhine, can be seen Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort, taken by French troops soon after the advance into Germany was ordered.

The occupation of the important sections of Germany by the allies to punish Germany for its failure to accept the allied reparations terms has begun. The first aggressive move was made by French troops which crossed the Rhine north of Cologne and took possession of Dusseldorf, Ruhrort and Duisburg. All three cities are important shipping and manufacturing centers. In addition to occupying these centers, the allies' plans call for imposition by each country of such a tax on German imports as may seem fitting and the establishment of a customs boundary under allied control along the Rhine.

Recommend Abolishment Of Uniform Tax Ruling

Report Submitted To Governor Davis By Citizens' Taxation Committee Provides New Plans Governing Taxation In Ohio.

Columbus, O., March 9.—Recommendations that the state constitution be amended so as to abolish the uniform rule in taxation and to provide for income and inheritance taxes and for a 15 mill tax limit in municipalities and for a 12 mill limit outside of municipalities are contained in the report submitted to Gov. Davis by his citizen's taxation committee.

The committee has completed its hearings relative to suggestions for a permanent taxation program which the state legislature will be asked to enact into law.

The proposed constitutional amendment, provides however that laws may be passed authorizing additional tax rates to be levied in any taxing district for specific purposes and periods, upon the approval of a majority of those voting at a general election in such district and that no state tax in excess of 1 mill shall be levied on property according to value.

The committee would exempt public and charitable property and household goods up to $500.

It is proposed that the constitutional amendment become effective January 1 next, if adopted in November and that the following be exempted from the tax rate limitations: Sinking fund levies for 1913 flood emergency bonds and other similar bonds now outstanding, local road levies for state highway improvement contribution so far as anticipated by outstanding bonds, and levies to meet soldiers bonus bonds, if they should be approved in November.

If adopted the proposed constitutional amendment the committee declared would do away with the greater part of the state tax levy, thereby avoiding a source of friction between the taxing districts; compel an income tax; make available to the legislature many sources of revenue which it has been found impossible to reach for taxation under the uniform rule, and afford an opportunity for a taxing system which can be enforced.

COSTA RICA TAKES TROOPS FROM THE SIXAOLA RIVER

Balboa, Panama Canal Zone, March 9.—The withdrawal of the Costa Rican troops across the Sixaola river has been completed, and it is expected that the Panamanians will withdraw from the disputed village of Coto, on the Panama-Costa Rica frontier, tomorrow, leaving the district in the hands of the civil authorities. While no official announcement has been made belief is growing in certain circles that Panama will accept the American offer of mediation upon the basis of the White award. The national assembly is expected to give the Porras government a vote of confidence today.

It is expected that G. H. Lamb, Fremont, will be chief clerk in the offices of State Prohibition Commissioner Parker who plans to announce today the names of six inspectors.

CAUTION WILL BE AIM TOWARD FOREIGN ISSUE

Harding To Proceed Slowly In the European Affairs.

INTEREST AT HOME
Will Remove U. S. Troops From Rhine As Soon as Possible.

Washington, March 9.—There were unmistakable signs today that the new administration is going to proceed slowly and with extreme caution in straightening out the kinks in our European relations.

The allied occupation of German territory and the tide of revolution which for the first time in three years bids fair to engulf soviet Russia are two situations that are being closely watched by the administration. But they are being scrutinized more against the time when American policies must be formulated than with any idea of taking steps immediately.

In the five days that he has been in the White House, President Harding has conferred with scores of men, high up in public and business life but the overwhelming burden of his talk has concerned conditions at home and not abroad. With only two men—Secretary of State Hughes and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge—has he discussed international affairs and even with these the conversation is described as "general" in character.

Keeping Promise
Those in confidence of the new president said today that this was in keeping with the promise often made by Senator Harding during the campaign—that if elected he would adopt a policy of putting our own house in order first—before attempting to cross either the Atlantic or the Pacific.

The Panama-Costa Rica controversy so far as is known is the only international issue to which the new administration has given serious attention and this is so close to home that it is considered practically a domestic issue.

President Harding is more or less committed to the recall of American troops from the Rhine so soon as that is found practicable. During the campaign he frequently asserted that American troops "had no business" there and "they should be home." The allied advance into German territory, however, has altered the aspect of this problem materially and if there has been any intention on the part of the new administration of immediately returning these troops it is now considered virtually certain that such intention will not be carried out for the present at least.

Might Work Damage
To call for the return of the troops now might result in embarrassing England, France and Belgium and would certainly be construed in Germany as widening the crack which admittedly exists between the policies of this government and the allies.

The same situation exists to a great extent in the proposed passage of the Knox resolution declaring a state of peace with Germany. Following the example of their candidate, Republican speakers during the campaign told their audiences that if the Republican ticket was elected there would be peace with Germany "as a republican congress could pass such a measure for a Republican executive to sign."

Whether this resolution will be presented and urged to immediate passage when the new congress assembles early in April appeared problematical today.

SOON TO BEGIN PROBE OF TRIAL

WILL MAKE EFFORT TO ESTABLISH FACTS IN MURDER CASE

Cleveland, March 9.—William L. David, a member of the law firm of Tolles, Hogsett, Ginn & Co., will make the probe ordered by the Cleveland Bar Association into the killing of Harold C. Kagy in connection with which William H. McGannon, former chief justice of the municipal court and John W. Joyce have already been tried.

An effort will be made to establish the facts surrounding Kagy's death last May and at the same time the representative of the bar association will assist Prosecutor E. C. Stanton in the investigation of alleged perjury in connection with the trials. Three have already been indicted charged with this offense and one is said to have confessed.

STATE LAUNDRY OWNERS SELECT MEETING CITIES

Dayton, O., March 9.—Columbus was given the 1922 state convention of the Ohio Laundry Owners Association, at the close of the convention here last night and Cleveland was decreed the national convention meeting place. Officers were elected as follows: President, John Meister, Toledo; First Vice President, J. G. Morgan, Youngstown; Second Vice President, R. W. Wood, Akron; Secretary, W. L. Stoneberger, Dayton; Treasurer, W. P. Lapman, Cincinnati; Sergeant at Arms, R. C. Snyder, Dayton.

GAME PROTECTORS TO PROVIDE SPORT FOR OHIO HUNTERS

Columbus, March 7.—According to A. C. Baxter, Chief of the Bureau of Fish and Game of Ohio, the work of the game protectors this year is going to be productive. It will be a part of their work to produce game for Ohio sportsmen and farmers, as well as to arrest those who violate the game laws. Game protectors will be schooled in game breeding and will have personal charge of hatching and rearing pheasants, wild turkeys and other game in their various counties this year. Game reared by the protectors, as well as the game birds and animals reared on the game farm at Wellington, will be distributed on game refuge or sanctuary territory. The state is now dotted with sanctuaries, and before the next hunting season it is planned to have the sanctuaries in every county as well as in the Lake Erie marshes and on wild lands in southern Ohio.

A bill to be introduced by Senator J. F. Atwood, will provide for public hunting grounds on wild lands, to be leased or purchased with hunters' license money. This will take much of the trespassing from farm lands and will give Ohio sportsmen a place of their own on which to camp and hunt. Some of this land can be leased for ten cents an acre and some can be purchased very cheaply. Lake Erie marsh territory will also be acquired wherever possible for the benefit of the sportsmen of the state.

Spawning grounds are to be set aside in East, West or Middle Harbors. This is a measure that many northern Ohio fishermen have advocated for some time. Spawning grounds will also be set aside and closed to fishing during the spawning season in all the inland lakes and reservoirs and along many streams.

To be strong, vigorous and active you must have plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It quickly helps make rich red blood, revivifies worn-out, exhausted nerves and gives new strength and energy. At all druggists. The clergyman doesn't mind the loss of the money, he declares, but he does want his valuable papers returned. So he has written to his unknown callers, through the medium of a newspaper advertisement, as follows:

"To my dear unknown friend who robbed my home on Tuesday between 12 noon and 10:20 p. m.—Will you be kind enough to return to me by mail the valuable papers you took, which are of no use to you. No questions will be asked, and I sincerely hope that the cash, jewelry and other valuables you stole will meet your necessities more adequately than my own."

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

It is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth."

"Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days."

True Hair Grower at Last

"That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the then mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

It has been proved in very many cases that hair roots did not die even when the hair fell out through dandruff, fever, alopecia areata, or certain other hair or scalp disorders.

Mr. Brien had consulted with the Dayton Public Library for the material for his talk, in which he advised the use of the plan of reading among the pupils of the Home as followed by the Boy's and Girls' Shelf of Reading in the Dayton Library.

The afternoon's program also included an address by Dr. W. A. Galloway of this city, upon "Hints on the Health of Children," which was of particular interest to the members of the club. FAIL TO REACH FINAL DECISION ON VOTE PRECINCTS

No final decision as to the number of precincts to be created in Greene County or Xenia City was arrived at by the Greene County Board of Elections at its meeting Tuesday, at which time the reapportioning plan was discussed.

The townships and villages that will be divided however, were fixed by the Board, although the number to be made in each township and village, and the total number to exist in the county after the reapportioning was not decided upon.

Bath township, Beaver Creek, Caesar Creek, Cedarville, Jefferson, New Jasper, Ross, Silver Creek and Xenia townships, are the townships that will be divided into two or more precincts. The villages to be divided are Cedarville, Jamestown and Yellow Springs, while the number of precincts in Xenia city will also be increased.

The other precincts will not be changed, according to the present plans. These are Miami township, east and west, Spring Valley township, East and West and Sugar Creek township, and the village of Fairfield, Bellbrook, Spring Valley and Bowersville. Osborn, which now has 446 voters, will be left as it is for the present, until present litigation between that village and the village of Fairfield, is settled, and the village becomes permanently located. The village will probably be divided however, before the August primary.

The reapportioning of the county was made necessary by the enfranchisement of the women, thus practically doubling the number of voters in the county. As there is a maximum fixed for each precinct, it is necessary to divide the majority of the townships and villages, so that no one precinct will have more than the maximum number of voters permitted. This work will be done by the Board with consideration for the expenses entailed to the districts by the increase in precincts, and the number to be added will not be made greater than is absolutely necessary, according to P. H. Cresswell, Secretary of the Board.

As the total number of precincts to be created has not yet been decided upon, the Board still has considerable work before it before the entire precinct arrangements of the county has been changed to meet the needs of the increased number of voters.

FORMULATE PLANS FOR A SCHOOL OF METHOD IN COUNTY

Plans for a school of method, at which the fundamental principles of child welfare and citizenship will be taught, were formed at the meeting of county executives of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. Walter Dean, on West Church street, Tuesday afternoon.

Representatives were present at the meeting from many surrounding towns including Bowersville, Jamestown, and Spring Valley. Plans were voted upon and unanimously adopted, by the W. C. T. U. executives.

The school of method will be held at Bowersville, May 3, and it was decided at the meeting to engage Mrs. Elizabeth Perkins, of Ann Arbor, Mich., to address the school on that date. Mrs. Perkins is the national director of child welfare, of the W. C. T. U. The school session will be devoted to the instruction of good citizenship and child welfare, under her leadership.

It is the plan of the executives of the League to hold schools at each of the local unions in the county, which will be opened during this month, at which regular instruction will be given upon the same type as the school of method. The League has chosen these topics, which will be enforced and given attention through the proposed schools in the near future.

Other plans which were discussed at the meeting were protests against gambling and the character of certain shows which come to this city, at the time of the Greene County Fair, and the sale of narcotics, in connection with the five-year campaign which has been staged by the W. C. T. U. Anti-Tobacco League over the county.

ALL DAY HEARING ON ROAD PLAN HELD TUESDAY

A hearing on the proposed improvement of the Cedarville and Jamestown road, was held before the County Commissioners Tuesday, the session lasting practically all day.

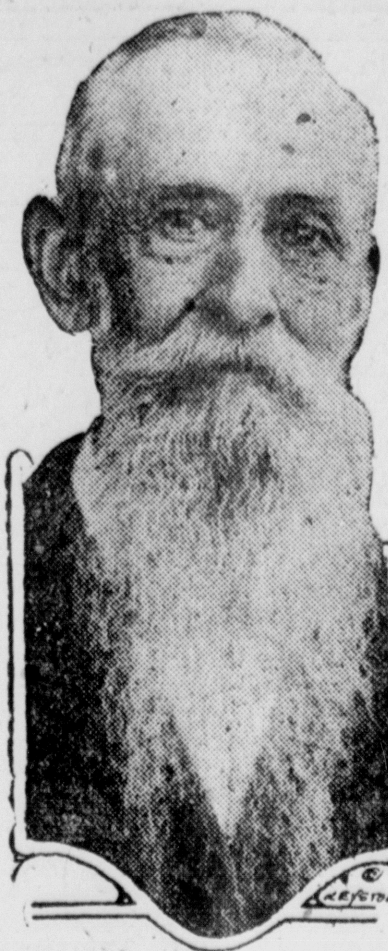

The question under discussion is whether the county shall ask state aid in improving the road, and going ahead with the improvement, at the regular assessment costs to the property owners along the way. Property owners along the road were invited to the hearing and about twenty representatives of the land owners of the district attended.

The Commissioners did not act immediately on the question, but have reserved their decision, which will probably be announced later this week.

PASS BRAND BILL EXEMPTING FARMERS' CONCERNS FROM ACT

The bill also authorizes each county to create not more than three assistant county superintendents, if the presidents of a majority of village and township boards so petition.

The bill, by Rep. Albaugh, Miami county, fixing minimum weights of carload shipments of livestock so as to induce railroads to place a lower number of meat animals in cars, passed the house almost unanimously. The bill goes to the senate.

For the second time, the house defeated the Wanner bill providing for physical education in schools. The measure was originally defeated on Feb. 24 but had been reconsidered.

FARM ACCOUNTING SCHOOLS ARE WELL ATTENDED IN COUNTY

The Farm Accounting schools which were held by the Farm Bureau at Yellow Springs were well attended.

R. F. Taber, Farm Accounting Specialist of the Ohio State University had charge of the meetings. In the afternoon sessions he explained the use of the Account Book and showed those present how to keep accounts.

In the evening meetings he explained the relation of the account book to the Income Tax and also showed what use can be made of the accounts to help a farmer better his own business. About forty account books were distributed.

Through a co-operative arrangement between the Farm Bureau and County Superintendent H. C. Aultman this simple account book will be introduced soon into the Public Schools as a part of the regular school course in the eighth grade. This will enable the boys and girls to apply some of their knowledge direct by keeping accounts on their father's farms.

WILL LIBERALIZE INTERPRETATIONS OF VOLSTEAD LAW

Washington, March 9.—A sweeping decision which will liberalize interpretations of the Volstead dry law, was made public by revenue Commissioner Williams today. The decision which throws into discard several existing regulations was the last opinion drawn by A. Mitchell Palmer before retirement as attorney general.

The ruling holds among other things that the government has no power under the prohibition law to limit the quantity of liquors of whatever kind, manufactured or sold for non beverage purposes. It was further declared that certain rules proposed to limit the number of permits for the production of such liquors would in effect be an "amendment" to the law itself and are invalid.

WANTED, LESS LIQUOR AND MORE LAWS AGAINST IMBECILE USERS THEREOF.

"Any man who drives an automobile while intoxicated should be either in a jail or a lunatic asylum."

In Philadelphia, one day last week, a man named Frederick, was arrested on the charge of operating an automobile while drunk. When arraigned before a magistrate it was found that he had been out on a $1000 bail on a similar charge since last October.

If, under the first offense, he had been in jail, as he should have been, the second killing would have been avoided.

The case attracts especial interest in that city at this time because of the campaign to send reckless and drunken drivers to jail, which already has resulted in the imprisonment of Byron E. Wrigley. Last week Wrigley was sent to prison for three years.

In the last case Magistrate Stevenson showed that he, for one, was bent on stopping reckless driving. He held Frederick in $5000 bail for court. An assistant police surgeon testified that Frederick was drunk at the time he was arrested.

The evil that men do to themselves by liquor drinking is bad enough to condemn the habit, but when it comes to injury to others because of their imbecility from drunkenness, the heaviest penalties should be inflicted.

Give a man several years in jail to reflect on his crime and perhaps we will have less of this particular form of human depravity.

The number of accidents from automobiles, in the very character of the vehicle driven by motor power, with people at their best, is a large one, and to be deplored, but when it comes to having this number augmented by drunken drivers it presents a case that needs heroic treatment and should have it every time. As the saying is, the law "should have teeth," in it for all such lunatics.

IF GERMANY HAD WON.

While considering the bill of damage the Allies are now trying to impose on Germany, it is just as well to keep in mind what the bill would have been if Germany had won the war.

It is a matter of record that in 1917, when Kaiser Wilhelm fully expected to crush the Allies, he declared that they would have to pay Germany 500,000,000,000 gold marks, and that his estimate was laid before the Reichstag in a speech by a high government official and met with enthusiastic approval.

Those five hundred thousand million marks would have meant $120,000,000,000. Compare that with the sum of reparation annuities now demanded from Germany, which is $55,000,000,000. It is nearly twice as much as the annuities and the objectionable export tax together. And it is to be remembered always that Germany wanted to extort that vast sum from the nations she had attacked, thereby doubly wronging them, whereas the Allies are trying, however, ineffectively or mistakenly, to obtain partial money compensation for the damage Germany deliberately inflicted on them.

THE GREAT FLOOD OF IMMIGRATION THREATENS INDUSTRY AND LABOR.

The present flood of immigration is perhaps the most pressing, the most important and most vital question before the country today. The United States has reached the point of saturation, and failure to recognize this fact may result in the loss of the American type.

Unless this new and monstrous wave of immigration is stopped or controlled it will injure both industry and labor. Congress therefore has been asked to put a two year ban on immigration.

Approximately 25,000,000 Europeans desire to immigrate to the United States. Immigration officials state that seven out of ten are dependents—women, children and old men. Nine out of ten settle in our already congested cities, making bad conditions worse, and a large number of these newcomers are revolutionary radicals who add to the forces of social unrest.

It is true we need many of these people, but where? On the farms, for instance. The farmers are crying for help all the time. Our coal mines need men, so do our cotton fields and a great many other places where solid, sober and substantial people of good intent would be welcome. But, unfortunately, the foreigners show a very great disinclination to this kind of work. Aliens arriving in this country refuse to work on farms because they get more for their labors in the cities. Visit the great manufacturing plants and you will find them full of alien workers, a large majority of whom were farm laborers in the country of their origin. Immigration to supply our farm owners with labor is a hopeless proposition.

America has always been a haven of refuge to the oppressed of all nations and seekers after liberty. But the days of autocracy and political oppression have passed in Europe, except in Russia, where the slaves of yesterday are the masters of today. The labor question, moreover, is not sentimental, it is economic.

The present alien influx is not desirable because at the present time we are not politically, economically or industrially prepared for assimilation. Our schools are crowded, our housing problem is acute and our congested cities, to which the foreigners naturally drift, are overrun with criminals.

America can take care of a trickle of immigration, but not a flood. Temporary restriction of immigration is one of the chief measures that will preserve the national unity of our country.

As to Mexico, "tell it to the Marines."

"Canned talk" is like canned fruit—it often becomes spoiled in the container.

When we are in the habit of thinking of armies in terms of millions or soldiers, we are prone to laugh at Panama's valiant attempt to place "a contemptible little army" of 500 in the field against Costa Rica.

Although the sun may be shining brightly early these March mornings, and we are tempted to leave our umbrella at home, it is well to remember that all is not gold that glitters.

The spring drier against dirt will soon be on in full swing, and the heavy bombardment in back yards will be started when father gets his 75 m. m. carpet beater into action.

Darkness Enfolds Xenia's Streets Tuesday Night as Power Fails

Xenia was as dark as a western movie plot Tuesday night!

The proverbial epithet concerning the mysterious episode of the whereabouts of Mosses, when he blew out the gas, was on everybody's lips.

In like proportion, rain was trickling down everybody's neck everybody's feet was splashing along in every puddle of water, and everybody's umbrella gouged a hole in everybody else's, as silk met cotton in the blackness of the night.

An Italian, wielding his stiletto in true Marion Crawford style, could have carved a square slice out of the solid blackness that hung like a cold on the chest, all over Main, Detroit, Second, Third streets and environs. And the atmosphere would have shed blood black as ink.

Pedestrians were as much lost on the familiar thoroughfares of the city as though they were in a moving picture jungle or a Coney Island crazy house. One man, starting toward the business section at seven o'clock was arrested on a charge of plain drunk at ten o'clock. He had wandered around in a ring within a ring around a square of his own house, until he was dizzy and exhausted.

Late at night, a few street lights flickered up half-heartedly, like a lighted hatch in the subway. They cast pale yellow gleams over a small section of the city covered by rain and its accomplices, fortunately they helped guide a few late pedestrians from the pitfalls of curb stones, and the provoking puddles.

During the evening, many people kept their porch lights lit, offering a regular lighthouse beacon for the belated traveler. Later when the city retired, side streets leading off of Main and Detroit look like dark tunnels. It was impossible to see farther than a few feet ahead.

Line trouble, near Wilbur Wright field, occasioned the failure of the supply of "juice" from Dayton Power & Light Company, said H. E. Heathman, manager of the local branch Wednesday morning. The lines were in trouble at intervals all day, and the Company was fortunate in keeping enough power at night for residences and business houses, and the few street lights that crept out like stars after a rain, toward midnight.

Is It Yours?

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF AMERIGO VESPUCCI

March 9, 1451

Amerigo Vespucci, an Italian merchant and adventurer achieved immortality by giving his name America to the New World as "America." He was born at Florence, Italy, in 1451, and became a student of philosophy and geography under the influence of his uncle. His father, however placed him as a clerk in the commercial house of the Medici the ruling family of Florence. He seems to have constituted as agent of the Medici and while on business for them to have become interested in the new continent as agent of the Medici.

Shortly after Columbus' great discovery became the talk of the old world, ships full of adventurers left Spain for the west. Vespucci claims to have sailed with one of these free lance expeditions in 1497. He also claims to have started on a second voyage two years later and a third voyage two years after that in 1501. He claims still another one and says he built a fort in the harbor he landed at. If his accounts of his trips had been trustworthy, Vespucci would have reached the main land of America eight days before the English explorer, John Cabot, reached here. But in spite of many letters that he wrote about it students have since decided that he did not make the 1497 voyage therefore had no share in the discovery of America. Nevertheless his name was given to it, though more properly it should be called Columbia.

Vespucci died in 1512.

HOW ADVERTISING REDUCES THE H. C. L.

The Key Experience Says A Hard Job Push or Pull Look Out for Him

AN EDITORIAL ON BUYING

Increased volume of sales is the key to lower manufacturing and selling costs.

Lower costs are the first requisite of lower prices.

Modern business must be organized on a volume basis to accomplish the efficiency in manufacture which modern labor-saving machinery makes possible.

It must be organized on a volume basis to permit the economies in selling which up-to-date methods produce.

Advertising, whether that of manufacturer or middleman, is first of all a selling agent—a producer of volume in business.

Other means, such as personal salesmanship, might be used to produce equal volume, but they are slow and costly by comparison.

In the so-called good old days, before advertising had become a really important factor in the world's commercial life, the prevailing method of selling was the one which is sometimes called the "push" method. Manufacturers, by active personal salesmanship, pushed their goods out to jobbers, or wholesalers, who in turn pushed it out to retail dealers, upon whom fell the task of pushing it out to the public. This involved a lot of selling effort all along the line, if sales were to be maintained and increased.

Moreover, the manufacturer gave the dealer little or no help in moving the goods from the store into the hands of those who were finally to buy and use them.

It was a mighty hard and expensive task to build up a large volume of business under this system. Furthermore, different sections of the country demanded different styles or models, so that a manufacturer might be turning out twenty or thirty or forty items in his line, when two or three would have been sufficient had he been able to control the market and standardize his wares.

Today progressive manufacturers have abandoned the method of "push" in favor of the method of "pull" the backbone of which is advertising. Through advertising they create among possible buyers an interest in their products and a desire for them. Sometimes this interest and desire crystallize in actual demand for that

AMBITIOUS WIVES.

I've seen some husbands wet with tears who might have learned to sing and dance, had but their wives, the dimpled dears, but given them a decent chance. I'm thinking now of Hiram Hick, who presses hard against the hames, and life's to him a gilded brick because his wife has "social aims." She gives a party every week, or riot of some other kind; and Hiram sees his roubles leak; she makes his assets hard to find. A tea to honor Mrs. Jones may be the proper thing to give, but Hiram's shy a hundred bones, and wonders why such females live. His wife must have a costly gown appropriate to each event; and Hiram totters through the town, and smokes a torch that cost a cent. He makes good money every year, and if his wife would mend her ways he well might read his title clear to Easy Street and happy days. But she must trot with richer folk, and mingle with the Upper Ten, and so poor Hiram's always broke and sighing for lost iron men. But in his grief he's not alone; a million husbands toil and spin, and every time they earn a bone their wives go forth to blow it in. A million husbands drudge and slave and toil along on weary feet; and if their wives would help them save, they all might dwell in Easy Street.

EDNA KENT FORBES

THE EXTRA-HENNA SHAMPOO

Sometimes I find that my readers are a little confused about the difference between the henna shampoo which is simply cleansing; the extra-henna shampoo which is to color the grey hairs and so make them less noticeable in light or dark hair; and henna when used as a dye.

The distinction is this:—the henna shampoo is made of henna and soap. It cleanses the hair and its only action is to give it a more brilliant tone. Henna used as a dye makes the hair auburn, but the extra henna shampoo does not; change the color of the hair at all. The only thing it does is to make the grey hairs a golden yellow and so keep them from being so conspicuous.

This is the only method to use for the extra-henna shampoo:—shampoo the hair as usual, using castile or any soap containing pure oil. Rinse the hair with hot water and gradually with cooler water until it is free from soap and from dirt. Mix up a small quantity of powdered Egyptian henna with hot water, until you have a paste about the consistency of thick cream. Cover the scalp with this, while the hair is still wet and let it stay on for exactly three minutes. Rinse off with hot water and then cold, and let your hair dry. The scalp absorbs enough from the henna to color the hairs which have no coloring matter in them; in other words, the conspicuous grey hairs. The rest of your hair will not be changed, except that it will probably be a little glossier.

Within three days you will see the full effects of the henna. If the three minute treatment doesn't sufficiently color the hairs leave the henna on four or five minutes. You can only tell exactly by experimenting, but if you follow these methods exactly, you can color these hairs without affecting the shade of the rest of your hair.

Pa—I should like very much to have space enough to publish your whole letter, as an encouragement to other girls of your age to build up strong and healthy bodies, and beautiful bodies as well, by taking exercises. I would not advise you to stop exercising, for I do not think that the cords and muscles in the neck can be overdeveloped to such an extent as to make the neck ugly. If it really worries you, you might change the exercises you take, keeping the one in which you bend to touch the floor and adding deep breathing and leg exercises, and those which would not particularly effect the muscles of the neck.

Akron Man Says He Is Certainly Thankful For What Tanlac Has Done For Him.

The gratifying results being obtained from Tanlac is further evidenced in the case of L. L. Chapman, of 64 S. 26th St., Kenmore, Ohio, well-known inspector at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co's. plant No. 1, Akron. Here is what he says:

"When a man is hungry and is afraid to sit down and eat a good meal on account of having to suffer from indigestion and stomach trouble, he is in a pretty bad fix, and that just hits the nail on the head in my case before I got Tanlac. Nothing I ate agreed with me and I could not eat until I could hardly breathe. I felt as tired on getting up mornings as I did when I went to bed the night before and was losing weight and strength every day."

"A friend got me to try Tanlac, and although I've just taken one bottle so far my food seems to agree with me, for my stomach no longer troubles me. I'm rapidly regaining my weight and strength, too, and am going to take Tanlac a while longer until it builds me up and puts me in the very best of health. I don't believe it can be beat anywhere, and am certainly thankful for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill; in Yellow Springs by A. Hemphill; Bowersville, N. K. Bower; Fairfield, Paul P. Young; Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

Coach Haller's lads were to have finished their season with a game with the University of Dayton Maroons, but the University quietly cancelled the contest, and the Oakwood aggregation was booked in its stead.

The Meteors have won ten games and lost four this season, and propose to make this record constant by turning in another win at the expense of the Dayton outfit.

DINNER STORIES

Teacher—Where did the Pilgrims land?
Johnny—I don't know whether it was on a Plymouth Rock or a Rhode Island Red.

In the departed days a somewhat befuddled guest appeared unsteadily before the desk of a smart hotel and demanded in thick but firm tones that his room be changed.

"I'm sorry," the clerk humored him. "But all the rooms are taken."

"Mush have 'nother room," insisted the guest.

"What's the matter with the room you have now?"

"Well, if you mush know," explained the dissatisfied tenant, "ish on fire."

A visiting clergyman was conducting an experience meeting at a colored church in the south, and a woman arose and bore witness to the preciousness of her religion as a light bringer and a comfort giver.

"That's good, sister," said the minister. "But how about the practical side? Does your religion make you strive to prepare your husband a good dinner? Does it make you look after him in every way?"

As he paused he felt a yank at his coat-tails and heard the colored deacon whisper ardently: "Press dem questions. Dat's my wife."

Statistics show that only 5,000-000 persons paid income taxes this year.

Which proves conclusively that an overwhelming majority of our 110,000,000 citizens are happy, contented and have comparatively nothing to worry about.—Life.

CAN'T "HIP" LIQUOR TO COLLEGE PROM

Madison, Wis.—University of Wisconsin authorities have launched a determined drive against bootleg booze. The courts and District Attorney have been listed in the fight to uncover the ring that supplies students with liquor.

Four co-eds asked to "resign" from the university for drinking have implicated the men supplying them, and these in turn have implicated others. Students planning to attend the junior prom, the big social event of the year have been warned that no "hip liquor" will be permitted.

ANTIOCH TOURNEY PATRONS WILL GET MEALS AT COLLEGE

In seven years in which the Antioch College basketball tournament has been the court classic of the year, there has never been the interest involved in the annual cage arguments as is being displayed this season.

The mix-up which starts next Friday afternoon with 11 boys' teams and seven girls teams, battling for separate championship titles and separate loving cups, promises in all respects to be the most keenly fought and enthusiasm arousing, set of basketball games, that has yet graced the floor of old Kelly Gym, since the inception of the tournament plan under Congressman S. D. Fess, then president, and his original and athletic-loving sons Lowell and Sumner.

This year the committee has planned to run both boys and girls games together, with the finals of each being played off Saturday evening, instead of having the two classes separate. Teams will register at the College Gym at 12 o'clock noon Friday and the drawing will take place immediately. Play will start at 12 o'clock. Play will be resumed at nine o'clock Saturday morning and continue until its conclusion Saturday night.

For the games Friday afternoon an admission of 15 cents will be charged, and Friday night the admission will be 25 cents. Saturday morning the admission will be 15 cents. Saturday afternoon 25 cents and Saturday evening 35 cents. Meals will be served at the College dining hall on both days, at 40 cents a plate. Plans are being made to accommodate a large number of patrons at supper Friday evening and at dinner and supper Saturday.

The best that is in a team comes out during the annual tournament games at Antioch. Each team brings a coterie of rooters that represent practically every boy or girl in school and every fan in the community from which the school comes. This is why, the Gymnasium at the Yellow Springs institution is crowded annually by a crowd of spectators that taxes the standing-room-only capacity let alone the seating arrangements afforded.

In anticipation of the usual, annual crowd of rooters that assembles at the hall, and each year roots against

Central High of this city in the semi-finals of finals, the local school is making preparations to send a delegation of rooters that will make itself heard from among all the crowds of noise-makers that it is expected will be on hand.

ACTION OF COUNTY EDUCATION BOARD FINDS OPPOSITION

Opposition to the recent decision of the Greene County Board of Education to cut down the number of county districts from three to two, has developed, it became known Wednesday.

This opposition has been brought to a head by the Board of Education of Sugar Creek, Xenia and Spring Valley Townships, who, it seems object to the possibility that their Superintendent, D. H. Barnes, might be relieved of his duties under the new order of things, which will take effect next September. Superintendent Barnes was only recently re-elected to the position he now holds.

Put down in black and white, these three boards are grieved for the following reasons: first, they want to retain their superintendent, as in a written statement they declare they are pleased with the advance shown by their schools; second, they want to be sure that the local boards will have a voice in the welfare of their schools; and third, they claim that effective supervision is out of the question under the new plan, for the reason that the supervising districts being increased from 37 to 46 teachers as at present to 61 and 65 under proposed arrangement, is not conducive to careful watching.

Representatives of these three township boards of education called on the County Superintendent Tuesday to voice their disapproval of the new plan. They will bring the matter up at the next meeting of the County Board, it was stated Wednesday. Superintendent Aultman could not be reached Wednesday for a statement.

In a prepared statement, Horace Anderson, president of the Xenia Township Board of Education said Wednesday:

"A year ago Mr. Bryson and Mr. Beam proposed a saving of $3,500 to the taxpayers by having the newly-elected County Superintendent of schools assigned a definite territory to supervise in connection with his official capacity, thus saving one superintendent. This was voted down. The board became divided and we fear the people must suffer."

"Why take the management of our schools away from the people and place it in the hands of a few who are least concerned? The people will not stand the turmoil. They pay the taxes and have a right to expect results."

"Under Section 4740, all rural districts maintaining first grade high schools can go out from under the county system. The change may drive some to take this action. These boards seek courteous treatment and desire harmonious relations to exist, and above all, they wish to have their schools continue as they are. These townships pay for their own supervision by taxation with the exception of $750 that the state pays. They are willing to pay for good supervision but oppose paying for poor supervision."

SHOW PHOTOGRAPHS IN INTEREST OF BEAUTIFYING CITY

Actual photographs will be used on a screen at the "town meeting" to be held at the opera house next Tuesday, March 15, in the interest of city beautification.

The meeting is being promulgated by the beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and it is hoped in this way to arouse the interest of citizens in plans to improve certain unsightly sections of the city, and create of them beauty spots and parks.

The committee has photographs of all the streets recently paved, before the paving was put down, and has since had photographs taken of the streets as they appear now. The clean new streets are in decided contrast to their former condition, and also make more pronounced the untidy places along side of them.

Pictures have also been taken of prospective sites for parks and beautification improvements, and these pictures will be thrown on the screen, followed by retouched slides, showing how those same sites will look after they are improved. If the plans of beautification committee are carried out, a picture of a map of Xenia will also be shown, showing the streets improved by pavements.

Other pictures secured to be shown at the meeting are pictures of the National Cash Register Company's plant at Dayton, taken before and after the grounds and property were improved by the proper cultivation of flowers, shrubbery and summer verdure.

A program committee, headed by Attorney C. L. Darlington is now working on a program of speakers for the evening. Landscape gardeners will be called in from other cities to explain simple plans that will mean much in transferring Xenia into a city beautiful. An attendance committee will also be appointed soon, the chairman of which will appoint the rest of the committee members whose duty it is to see that everyone is notified of the meeting, and that a good attendance is on hand.

The meeting will be carried out on the plan of the old New England "town meetings", where all citizens are invited free and where everyone is asked to take an interest in the project on hand.

CLASS DAY OFFICIALS CHOSEN AT HARVARD

Cambridge—Class Day officials at Harvard have just been appointed by the committee in charge, which is headed by Herman D. Smith. T. Redmond Thayer of Brooklyn, N. Y., will act as treasurer Thomas C. Wales, of Chestnut Hill, and Arthur D. Hamilton, of Milton, will jointly manage the senior spread; George S. Baldwin, Jr., of Chestnut Hill will act as master of the college yard; Hamilton McFadden of Cambridge will have control of all arrangements in connection with Sanders Theater and Appleton Chapel and Kenneth Campbell of Mt. Hamilton, Cal., will oversee the stadium exercises.

CLEMENCEAU REFUSES "CANNED TALK" PLAN

Paris.—Since it has been decided to create a phonetic institute in France where the voices of all France's great men will be recorded on phonographs for future generations to hear, numerous efforts have been made to induce former Premier Clemenceau to speak a few words in the machine. This he refuses saying that when he dies his voice will die with him. He further er says that people often heard enough of his voice during his life and undoubtedly would care very little about hearing it again later on. More attempts are to be made to get the Tiger's consent when he returns from India next month.

SCORES FRANCE FOR SUFFRAGE ATTITUDE

Paris.—On the occasion of its fiftieth anniversary the French League for the rights of women publishes a book called "Fifty Years of Feminism." It carries a prelude by ex-President Raymond Poincare in which the latter addressing Madame Maria Verone, president of the league says:

"You know that I am for the rights of women. It is rather humiliating for France to see other countries gradually according women their rights of suffrage while here nothing has been done in the matter."

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your body the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.

Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

HEARING TESTIMONY ON PHONE INCREASE IS NOW AVAILABLE

All of the exhibits and figures presented by the Ohio Bell Telephone Company as testimony in the hearing of the rate increase put into effect here last fall by that Company held before the State Public Utilities Commission last week, are now available at the Chamber of Commerce and are open to the inspection of the public.

The figures show the statements covering the inventory and appraisal made of the property of the old Central Union Telephone Company in the Xenia district, as compiled by the Telephone Company. The Public Utilities Commission is now working on an appraisal of its own in this district, and whether the higher rates here are allowed, depends upon the result of that appraisal. If their appraisal is materially lower than the Company's appraisal, the higher rate claim will not be allowed, but if it is shown that the appraisal is correct, the higher rate, or at least part of it, will be allowed by the Commission.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Bladder Normal, Says This Dayton Man, Was Relieved by Simple Treatment.

Mr. Julius Mayer, 1430 East Fifth St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Daily News: "For two years my bladder caused me to get up many times at night and too frequently in the day. After taking a few doses of lithiated bucha my bladder works perfectly normal and can sleep all night."

Lithiated bucha acts on the kidneys and bladder as Epsom salts do on the bowels. You will be surprised at the impurities which come from the bladder after taking a few doses of lithiated bucha. It is not a patent medicine, as the formula is on the package. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several high-priced drugs, which are necessary to give prompt relief. It is not likely that you have ever taken a remedy similar to this. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine, frequent desire, gravel or other deposits of the bladder.

You can see the formula and learn more about lithiated bucha at Sayre & Hemphill's drug store and drug stores everywhere.

GROOM AT WEDDING WAS BEST MAN, TOO

Roosevelt, Mo.—Aaron Lovan it is said, is willing to admit now that he was not the "best man" at the wedding of Julian Johnson recently, his boastful declaration that he was "best man" having resulted in a double fracture of the jaw when Julian demonstrated with his fists that Lovan was mistaken.

Lovan and several companions are alleged to have entered the wedding festivities as uninvited guests. Lovan declared that he was not only the "best man" of the company but "could lick anyone on the Ridge," according to witnesses. When the bride remarked that he "couldn't lick her Julian" the festivities gave way to a fistie entertainment, in which Lovan and his brother, the Rev. Jeff Lovan, are said to have received severe maulings.

The bridegroom arrested on a charge of felonious assault was released on bond for a preliminary hearing.

Washington, March 9.—Japanese troops in Siberia have practically assumed the role of an army of occupation and are daily increasing their activities, according to reports in the possession of the state department today from its representatives there. The reports submitted by some of these observers go so far as to urge the United States to initiate immediate steps to get the Japanese out of the country.

HEALTH THE KEYNOTE TO BEAUTY

Beauty means so much to women—power, social triumph, admiration and love. Beauty implies good health. Who ever saw a woman racked with pain, struggling with weakness or disease, who could be called beautiful? The woman of today in this high-strung, nervous age is continually overdoing, with the result that ill-peculiar to her sex develop which, unchecked, will ruin all chances for her happiness. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. TWO THOUSAND SEE SCHOOL PICTURE SHOW TWO DAYS LAST WEEK

Fully two thousand people saw the moving picture of "From the Manger to the Cross" when it was shown last Friday and Saturday for the benefit of the city schools. There have been so many requests for a return of this picture that arrangements have been made to have it repeated. This will be done some time next week.

At the invitation of the president and superintendent of Wilberforce University the picture was shown to a large body of students on Saturday evening.

The "Movie" program for this Friday and Saturday includes a picturization of Tennyson's immortal "Enoch Arden"; "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp" of Arabian Night's fame, and a Harold Lloyd comedy. The free show for the children who won merits during the month of February will likely be given next Saturday. This program will include probably "The Collie Market" a beautiful picture of the Country Life Series featuring Paula Blackton and the Blackton children. There will also be an industrial and educational film on some subject like the "Manufacture of Paper."

At the invitation of Supt. Berry of the C. N. & I. at Wilberforce all the films shown on Friday and Saturday will be shown at Galloway hall at 6:30 Saturday evening.

On Friday evening the Central Grades will have the picture for a benefit in order to raise funds to carry on some needed projects for their schools.

The Spring Hill benefit last Friday evening was successful and a new sum of money was realized for the schools.

The films used by the projector which shows these pictures are safety standard non-inflammable and are approved by the Underwriter's Laboratories. The machine does not require an enclosing booth. This makes possible an unrestricted use anywhere.

The films are selected by the superintendent of schools and contain no objectionable features, says Supt. C. A. Waltz. "All pictures are morally clean and wholesome and every program contains an educational feature based upon some literary masterpiece or important historical event. Moving pictures are here to stay. There is only one way to improve conditions under which pictures are now shown in the commercial picture theatres and that is to demand that only those pictures be shown that will give the right interpretation to social life and that will build up right ideals for young people."

The films under the auspices of the schools we aim to educate boys and girls to the proper appreciation of good, wholesome moving pictures. We earnestly solicit the appreciation and co-operation of all parents in this movement. The result will be a better class of pictures sent out by the producing companies for all progressive schools are making use of this form of Visual Education."

SMALLPOX REPORTED IN AKRON SCHOOLS

Akron, March 4.—Nearly 1,000 students are out of school here as the result of small pox, health authorities announced.

Several hundred were sent home from Central High School shortly after noon today when it was discovered that a student absent was suffering from the disease.

Investigation showed he had exposed all in his classes several days ago.

More than 200 are out at Wet High, according to Dr. Malcolm R. Miller, city epidemiologist, while 200 are out at Margaret Park School.

Four cases have been found among the students of West High, Miller said. One of these exposed many students, while the other three are thought to have been kept at home before he disease reached its communicable stage, he said.

Three cases in one family exposed nearly all the students at Margaret Park school last week, Miller said. Four other suspicious cases from the same school are being closely watched.

Five new cases of the disease were reported to the health department Thursday, according to Miller, while there were 36 cases reported during February.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

JUANITA STILL BELIEVES CHAPTER 110

"What, won't you go away for a time?" I asked Dick the next morning at breakfast. "Of course I don't mean until Junior returns to school." I had seen the doleful look on my boy's face, and knew he thought I intended to leave him at home alone.

"I can't afford to go!" Dick answered shortly. "But I can! I haven't spent nearly all I made on the Baker house and we both need a change."

"Go if you like, but leave me out of your calculation. If the book had been accepted I should have taken that yachting trip. As it is I shall remain at home and write pot boilers."

"But I couldn't have gone on the yachting trip—at least you said nothing about taking me."

"No. Somers couldn't take any more ladies. He said he was sorry—sorry not to be able to invite you. I mean, but his yacht would not accommodate any more than he had asked."

"So ladies were going?"

"I said no more, but knew I had the explanation. Juanita was to go. I wanted desperately to ask if he knew she was invited, instead I questioned as carelessly as I could:

"Who were going? Anyone I knew?"

"Yes I believe so—Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer, Linda Forrester, and Carroll, and—some others. About six in all."

"Is Juanita going?" It was out I just couldn't help it. Dick flushed as he answered:

"I believe she was invited. I do not know whether she intends to go or not."

There flushed through my mind the thought that perhaps she would not go unless Dick went also. He had said he would not go. I said no more but went to the telephone. I called Juanita.

"Are you going on the yachting party Mr. Somers is giving?" I asked.

"Yes—why?" she answered in a peculiar voice.

"Oh I had thought of giving another party—cards—and wanted to know who to ask!"

When I returned Dick said:

"I must tell Juanita about the manuscript. I think I'll walk over there and get through with it."

"That's a good idea. You will feel better when it is over. Of course you can't tell her it was her fault, her exaggerated ideas that made the book a failure." I had suggested he try another publisher, but he had declared the nature of the criticisms made it hopeless.

"She was so sure it would be a success."

"So were you."

"Yes—for a time. By the way Dick, Juanita told me just now, when I called her on the telephone to find out about having her for a bridge game, that she was going on the yachting party."

Dick made no answer, but when he reached the door I called after him: "If she changes her mind, let me know."

"She'll change it all right," I said to myself "when she finds out Dick isn't going."

Dick was gone nearly all the morning.

"Well, what did Juanita say about the manuscript?" I asked knowing by his face that it had been nothing helpful.

"She raved like a maniac when I showed her the publisher's letter. She wants me to keep on sending it out until I find a publisher who will accept it. But I am sure it would be useless, and told her so."

"I'm terribly sorry for your disappointment, Dick," I said honestly. "But next time write your book alone."

"You better believe I will! If I ever attempt another."

"And you won't take a short vacation with me—why?"

"Because I am not going to let you support me any longer. I have paid scarcely anything towards the expenses for months, ever since I commenced that failure over there," he pointed to the rejected manuscript.

"I'm through letting a woman support me."

"Nonsense, Dick! What difference does it make who earns the money as long as we have enough to be comfortable? It isn't fair of you to talk like that, and you know it. You made money with your stories. You can do so again. But I think a rest, a change would do you good. Then too, Juanita may feel a bit disgruntled over the criticisms, and it will give her time to get over it." Dick, like all men, hated any sort of unpleasantness.

"I tell you I can't go!" Dick returned. "At least not now!"

Had Dick been disloyal? That he had been fascinated, carried off his feet, I had proof. I wasted my love perhaps, but I was parched for the lack of it, and it was only the love that belonged to me that I longed for. It had become almost a mania with me—this determination to hold the man who had promised to cherish me until death did us part, and whom I loved more desperately every day.
